No Island 'Deals,' Dulles Says

Less than two weeks now remain before the final date for filing as candidates for the April school election. We sincerely hope the number of aspirants will increase when the deadline is reached on March 15.

As of now, three men seek three vacancies on the board of education. While the three candidates may have excellent qualifications for the duties of school board member, we hope to see more in the race, because we don't believe the democratic process is based on shoo-in elections.

* * *

The job of naming school board members would be easier if we had a definite set of qualifications, but that isn't the nature of the system. It shouldn't be. We have faith in the wisdom of the people to choose the best men to serve their interests.

The candidate should be independent. If elected, he should approach his job without preconceived ideas of what should, or should not be done, but consider each proposal as it comes before him.

There is no room on the board of education for candidates chosen by a few (only 50 names are required to nominate) and elected by default because there is no opposition.

The man must not be secretive. The board conducts the people's business and the people have the right to know how it is handled. Secret meetings to thresh out differences of opinion and public sessions to rubber-stamp the final action do not comply with the requirement.

It seems beyond the realm of human nature that school boards can proceed through meeting after meeting, voting on issues vital to the community, without a dissenting vote. If all members of a board see things exactly alike, it indicates w ehave strayed from the democratic process. We need difference of opinion to forge the buildings, the curriculum and the staff we need for a healthy school system.

* * *

The board member must be a man who does not let economy become a god that blots out the good of the system in general. From across the nation we hear reports of the dire need of new classrooms and more teachers. Can it be that for many years school boards have done us a disservice by letting economy of operation be their main operating principle?

We believe that when the public is informed of a need, it acts to satisfy it. The voters will build schools when they are satisfied that the need exists. But they will oppose what is done in secret and resent any attempt to keep the facts from them.

The candidate must be a man of vision. He must be ready to plan schools and faculties to meet the need for 10 or 20 or 30 years—not for three to five years. With school populations increasing at a startling rate, the public cannot afford short-term or stop-gap planning.

The board member must not seek personal gain, for the job pays nothing and he is exposed to public scrutiny and criticism.

But as we said in this column several weeks ago, the reward is great. The board member is helping youth and preparing a better tomorrow.

Illinois Farm Prices Drop 12% in Year

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Prices received by Illinois farmers during the month ended Feb. 15 dropped 12 per cent below the same period last year.

However, the index held up to the same level of the month ended Jan. 15 this year, the State-Federal agricultural departments reported today.

Corn at $1.41 a bushel was down 3 cents from a year ago, wheat at $2.10 was up 5 cents and soybeans at $2.65 fell 41 cents.

Hogs brought $16.20 a hundredweight, a drop of $9.40. Beef cattle at $18.80 rose 50 cents.

GRIEF-STRICKEN PARENTS—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reinsch try to console each other over the drowning of their son, William P. Caplinger, six, at San Diego, Calif. War Prisoner Gets Two Years

Sgt. Olson Convicted Of Red Collaboration

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—M/Sgt. William H. Olson today was sentenced to two years' confinement at hard labor, and dishonorable discharge, following his conviction by a court-martial on charges of collaborating with the enemy while a prisoner of war in Korea.

The sentence also carried forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

Olson stood erect as his sentence was read, saluted the court, and then resumed his seat at the table with his counsel and bowed his head in his hands.

The 40-year-old Army career man was convicted Wednesday night on three of the seven specifications against him. He was convicted of making an anti-American speech of praising enemy treatment of prisoners of war, and of writing pro-Communist articles for the prison camp newspaper.

He was visibly shaken when the court, after nine hours of continuous deliberation, announced the verdict. Tears came to his eyes as he told reporters:

"I feel I was not the only man on trial in this case. Every man who was a prisoner of war or who will be a prisoner of war was on trial."

The charge originally contained eight specifications. One count, alleging that he wrote a surrender leaflet, was dropped when the prosecution rested its case. The others included informing on fellow prisoners and making propaganda recordings for rebroadcast.

Warn Big 10 Coaches of Gamblers

CHICAGO (AP)—Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson has issued formal warning to Big Ten basketball coaches to maintain "vigorous resistance" against what he termed the gambling menace after two coaches reported phone approaches by gamblers.

Under a memorandum dated March 2, Wilson told the coaches that because college basketball is an extremely popular and honest sport it "is a field into which the sharpsters seek to move. And when they do, we are in serious trouble."

Wilson's office disclosed the memorandum had been circulated Wednesday. The Chicago Daily News in an opening series today on gambling in sports, said two unidentified Big 10 coaches had notified the commissioner they were phoned by gamblers.

The News story, written by Jack Mabley, also said gamblers had phoned two Chicago college coaches George Ireland of Loyola and Ray Meyer of DePaul.

Ireland in reporting the incidents to police asked for their help in guarding against gamblers, the News said.

Churchill Says U. S. Own Boss on Bomb Retaliation

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today United States planes based in Britain might launch a counterblow without prior consultation in the event of a surprise hydrogen bomb attack "on this island."

Churchill gave this answer to the House of Commons when Laborites demanded the "precise terms" of his agreement with President Eisenhower regarding American planes based in England.

Laborite Kenneth Robinson wanted assurances "Britain would not become engaged in war without prior consent of her majesty's government."

The Prime Minister referred to his statement of a year ago when he said use of American air bases in Britain would be a matter for joint decision.

Robinson pressed for more details.

"I suppose," snapped Churchill, "an immediate destructive surprise and treacherous attack by the hydrogen bomb upon this island might possibly be acted upon by our allies in the U.S.A. almost immediately, without further prior consultation."

It is on H-bomb defense policy, backed by Labor party leader Clement Attlee, that Aneurin Bevan is making a new bid to seize power in the party. He is leading a revolt against Attlee.

Dixon Township's Tax Bill Will Be Increased Slightly

Seven-Cent Hike Noted In Tax Rate

Valuations Up Also; Twp. Government Increase Is Cited

Dixon township's tax rates will be higher this year, it was revealed today by County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock, whose job it is to spread the assessment.

The hike will be approximately 7½ cents higher than the rate applied last year, he said. The rate this year (actually applied to 1954's valuation but contained on this year's tax bills) will be $2.6062 on each $100 valuation. This compares with the rate of $2.5293 on the tax bills received in 1954.

The major increase will come in the rate for township government, the figures reveal. The township rate this year is .2069 as compared to the .1352 applied in 1954.

City tax rates remain comparatively stable. The rate applied this year will be .6653 as compared to .6567 a year ago.

The park district tax rate also shows a slight increase, .1507 this year as compared to .1483 a year ago.

The school tax: $1.3719 this year as compared to $1.3678 a year ago.

County Tax: .2214 this year as compared to .2218 a year ago, or a slight decrease.

Dixon township's valuation also increased in 1954. The valuations, on which your forthcoming tax bill is based, totaled $51,402,925. This compares with $51,271,557 valuation used for the tax bills a year ago.

Five Killed In Chicago Area Crashes

CHICAGO (AP)—Five persons were killed in automobile collisions in the Chicago area Wednesday.

Three women died in a collision at Bloomingdale and Army Trail roads north of Wheaton. They were Mrs. Ruth L. Broadwell, 62, and Mrs. Ann S. Karel, 41, both of suburban Clarendon Hills, and Mrs. Irene Grady, 52, of Milwaukee.

They were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Eleanor Wilkins, 42, also of Clarendon Hills, who was severely injured.

The driver of the other car, Edward Schramer, 52, of Roselle Ill., was charged with involuntary manslaughter. He received minor injuries.

Mrs. Billie Burkhardt, 45 of suburban Westmont was killed in another collision at Midwest Rd. and 31st St. north of Westmonth. Her car overturned after colliding with one driven by Richard P. Klep, 21, of suburban LaGrange, a Northwestern University student.

Klep was charged with reckless manslaughter. He and a woman passenger in Mrs. Burkhardt's car, Mildred Kuhnen, 33 of Westmonth, were seriously injured.

Leonard Marquardt, 29-year-old caddy master at the Bunker Hill golf club, was killed when his car rammed a parked state highway truck on Milwaukee Avenue near Glen View Rd. A passenger, Henry F. Peszat, 44, was critically injured.

Carroll County Men Are Injured

Two Carroll county men were slightly injured late Tuesday in a single-truck mishap about four miles east of Chadwick on Rt. 88.

State police estimated damage to the truck and its contents at $4,500.

Injured were the driver, Jerry Bast, 19, Chadwick, and Harold James, 23, Thomson.

Judge Forbids Twin Adoption

Cites Religious Barrier In Boone County Decision

BELVIDERE, Ill. (AP)—A judge today refused to let a Protestant couple adopt Catholic twins. Judge Henry Cowlin of McHenry county, sitting in Boone county court, denied a petition of Mr. and Mrs. De Wyne Cooper to adopt the twins, 11-months-old Mary Kathryn and Margaret Ann Hinrichs.

The children are daughters of Mrs. John Hinrichs Burt, 23, who placed them, along with three other of her children, in St. Vincent's Orphanage, Freeport.

Given Foster Home

Last August Warren N. Tanner, Boone County probation officer, removed the twins from the orphanage and placed them in the Cooper home as foster children. They were declared dependent children in Boone County when first placed in the orphanage.

But when the Coopers sought to adopt the children, the Rev. Michael Shanahan, director of Catholic Charities in the Rockford Diocese, protested on the ground the twins are baptized Roman Catholics and the Coopers are Presbyterian.

Judge Cowlin upheld the protest and denied the adoption petition citing Illinois law to the effect that the courts "shall whenever possible give custody through adoption to a petitioner or petitioners of the same religious belief as that of the child."

Waiting List

Father Shanahan told the court St. Vincent's has a long waiting list for adoption. The children are currently in the custody of Tanner and remain in the home of the Coopers as foster children until placed by the probation officer.

Cooper, a Belvidere heating contractor, said "We are brokenhearted but I do not know what else we can do." The couple has another adopted child, Lisa, 7-months-old.

Mrs. Burt was divorced from John Hinrichs in October, 1953 and is now married to Daniel Burt, 31, a local garage mechanic.

Egypt Will Fight Back If Attacked

'Will Give Israel A Lesson' in War, Nasser Reports

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egyptian Premier Gamel Abdel Nasser announced today the Egyptian army has been ordered "to retaliate by force" against any future Israeli attacks.

The head of Egypt's military ruling group told cheering students at the Egyptian military college "If we enter war . . . we will give Israel a lesson it will never forget."

Nasser's warning to Israel came after 36 Egyptian soldiers and 2 civilians were killed in fighting with Israeli forces on the outskirts of Gaza Monday night.

It was also an answer to Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett's statement to his Parliament Wednesday night in which he said "it is up to Egypt to decide" whether the Palestine war breaks out again.

Gaza Quiet

Refugee-packed Gaza, chief town of the small Egyptian-held strip of Palestine, was reported quiet today after two days of Arab rioting and attacks on United Nations' property which followed the clash with the Israelis.

The U.N. truce chief for Palestine Canadian Gen. E. M. Burns, visited the city today and inspected the damage done in the riots. He refused to comment on the situation, saying he would have to await the report of the Mixed Armistice Commission investigating the Egyptian Israeli battle.

The U. N. Security Council will meet in urgent session at its New York headquarters Friday to discuss Egypt's charges of Israeli aggression near Gaza.

Destroy Food Depot

David Stephen, Gaza district director of the U. N. Works and Relief Agency, said the destruction of two UNWRA food depots in the Gaza strip by rioters Wednesday caused about $175,000 damage according to first reports. Maj. Gen. Abdullah Rifatt, governor of Gaza, said the two depots held a month's food for 5[illegible] of the Arab refugees who made up the bulk of the rioters.

Egyptian officials said the outbursts were spontaneous demonstrations of the refugees' "frustration and anger" at what they considered the United Nations' failure to halt border incidents.

County Board to Meet on March 8

The Lee county board of supervisors will meet March 10 in the courthouse. Quarterly reports will be given. County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock set noon, March 8, as deadline for all claims to be presented to him for payment during this session.

300 Boston Firemen Fight Blaze at Historic Wharf

BOSTON (AP)—A spectacular fire early today swept [illegible]-foot-long historic India wharf leveling several business establishments and damaging the wharf pilings and deck.

Officials estimated damage at $[illegible] and called in the arson squad to determine its cause.

Some 300 firefighters battled the blaze from the street side with miles of hoselines while the Boston fire boat and Coast Guard and Navy vessels poured tons of sea water from the wharf's water sides.

The fire still blazed nearly four hours after it broke out but Fire Chief John V. Stapleton said it was contained on the wharf and would not spread.

One of the first of more than a dozen two-story wooden business and fish dealers' structures to be swept by the flames was that of the Fulton Box Co.

Other structures destroyed included those housing the Marks Dispatch Co., the Diamond Motor Transportation Co. and the Buchanan Transport Co., all trucking concerns.

At least one machine shop, a live lobster concern, and some fish dealers' places also were destroyed.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— A spectacular fire in a waterfront warehouse lighted up San Francisco Bay early today and threatened a nearby utilities company gas plant but was brought under control within 1½ hours.

The fire broke out in an old sugar warehouse being dismantled.

Chiang Gets Assurance Of Defense

Cease-Fire Terms Won't Include Two Offshore Bastions

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told Chinese Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek today that Quemoy and the Matsus were not on the bargaining table for a cease-fire in the Chinese civil war.

But sources close to the secretary hinted the offshore islands might be abandoned to the Reds on two conditions:

(1) That the abandonment would bring a guaranteed peace to Asia, and (2) That Nationalist China would agree to the move.

The Nationalists may not agree under any circumstances. The islands are the last important outposts they hold off the Red mainland.

Renews Pledge

Dulles reaffirmed U. S. determination to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, as pledged in the mutual defense pact ratified earlier today.

Dulles left for Washington late in the afternoon, winding up a whirlwind tour of Thailand, Burma, Laos, Cambodia, South Vietnam, the Philippines and Formosa.

Thirty-seven minutes after he arrived today he signed the documents that brought into force the mutual defense pact between the United States and Nationalist China. Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh signed for China.

The treaty itself was signed in Washington Dec. 2. It commits the United States to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, gives the United States the right to dispose land, air and sea forces in and about the area, and binds the two countries to act against an armed attack in the west Pacific.

"Closer" Cooperation

In a statement at the airport, Dulles said the U. S. is committed to "closer and more effective cooperation for the defense of the treaty area."

He emphasized the lack of commitment to Quemoy and the Matsus in these words:

"It is not possible at this time to state explicitly how that defense will be conducted."

That leaves open the question of whether the United States actively would defend the offshore outposts if that becomes necessary to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Dulles did not go into the controversial question of the creation of "two Chinas" if an ultimate cease-fire is attained—Formosa and the mainland.

Both the Communists and the Nationalists have declared there can be only one China. Both insist they represent the only legal government for all of China.

Observers felt Chiang would insist on active U.S. support in invading the mainland if he agreed to the evacuation of Quemoy and the Matsus.

No discussion on the topic was made public.

Adm. Robert S. Carney, U. S. chief of naval operation, Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, and Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet, told Dulles it is urgent to speed over-all defense plans for this area.

Young Boys Die in Fire

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP)— Two young boys left in the care of an elder brother and sister while their mother worked died Wednesday night in a flash fire at the family's home.

Dead are Dennis Martin, 3, and his brother, David, 18 months, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin. Two other children, William, 13, and Judy, 7, escaped injury.

The children's mother was at work at a bowling alley at the time and their father, unemployed for about three months, was in San Francisco seeking work.

The family's five-room, two-story unit in a housing project was gutted. Fire Chief Harold Duke said the fire apparently started in the first floor furnace room.

Reds Oust U. S. Priest In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—With tears streaming down his cheeks, an American Roman Catholic priest bade farewell to his weeping congregation today. He was saying his final Mass before expulsion from the Soviet Union.

Americans, Britons and other members of Moscow's Western diplomatic colony came to the service in the chapel adjoining the apartment of the Rev. George Bissonnette, of Central Falls, R. I., the only foreign Roman Catholic priest in Russia.

Soviet police told Father Bissonnette Wednesday his passport was being lifted. He must get out of the country by Saturday. No reason was given.

U.S. Protests

The U.S. government protested that the ouster violates an agreement in the 1933 Roosevelt-Litvinoff pact granting American recognition to the Soviet Union. U.S. authorities contend the pact gave Americans the right to have a clergyman, priest or rabbi in Moscow to serve American citizens.

Western observers speculated that the expulsion order might be in retaliation for the refusal of the U.S. government last week to let the Metropolitan Boris of the Russian Orthodox Church extend the visit he has been making to the United States.

Father Bissonnette, after repeatedly breaking down during his last service, told his listeners to worship in the future at the local church of St. Marie de Francais.

"If you cannot confess in Russian or Polish, just tell the father (a Russian priest) that you want absolution and you'll receive it," he instructed them.

Chapel Filled

The chapel was nearly filled this morning with ambassadors' wives, their children and others—many of them weeping also—seeking to comfort the priest who has served them since January, 1953.

American officials took the view that nothing could be done to keep Father Bissonnette in Moscow.

The Assumptionist order in the United States, which supplies the priest for Moscow, said it would apply to the Russian government for permission to send the Rev. Louis F. Dion as a replacement. Father Dion, now registrar at Assumption College in Worcester, Mass., already had been chosen to replace Father Bissonnette this spring.

Recent sample measurements indicated that 9-year-old American boys average 3.8 inches taller and 18.7 pounds heavier than 9-year-old boys were in 1881.

Unconscious Two Years, Husband Dies Wednesday

PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—For 2½ years Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen nursed her unconscious husband Jack, who suffered a brain concussion in an auto accident in 1952. At the same time she worked to support the family, including two teen-age children.

Wednesday, in their flood-isolated house on the Big Sandy River, Bowen died without ever having regained consciousness. His body was removed in a boat.

They Wanted A Church—And Got One

Residents of Rolling Meadows, a new subdivision of Arlington Heights, Ill., turned church-builders when they became determined to have a place to worship in their own community. An old red barn was remodeled. Lumber and paint were provided by Kimball Hill, a local builder, who also approved the use of the building. The builders poured a concrete floor on the lower level, built a stairway to the hayloft and erected a pulpit and altar for the pastor. The volunteer labor force assembled in October and the church was ready for its first service on Dec. 5. There are 17 denominations represented in the community of 800.

Associated Press Wins Award for McCarthy Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press today won Long Island University's George Polk Memorial Award for wire service reporting for a special series of articles on Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The citation said the AP articles dealt with the controversial topic "objectively and factually."

The award cited Alan J. Gould, AP executive editor, and Don Whitehead, Saul Pett, Bem Price, Relman Morin and Jack Bell, writers of the series.

All phases of McCarthy's personality, banckground and controversies were covered in the 13-part series, which ran from April 4-18, 1954.

The award was one of 13 designated in the eighth annual balloting of the LIU department of journalism faculty members. The awards are in memory of the CBS correspondent killed in Greece in 1948.

Winners of the other 12 awards included.

Foreign Reporting—George Weller, Rome correspondent for the Chicago Daily News syndicate, for a series of articles "giving a behind-the-scenes picture of events in Turkey, including the oppression of Turkish newspapermen."

Democrats Threaten Tax Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)— A possible slowdown by the Senate Democratic leadership on the administration-backed tax bill threatened today to bring on a floor fight rivaling in bitterness that which preceded House passage.

Colleagues said Sen. Clements of Kentucky, acting Democratic leader, has let it be known he favors delaying the start of debate until March 14.

House Democrats, over the vigorous opposition of President Eisenhower, had written into the bill a $20 income tax cut for everyone effective next Jan. 1. The Senate Finance Committee struck out that cut, leaving in the bill only a year's extension beyond April 1 of present corporation and excise tax rates now bringing in three billion dollars a year.

Sen. Barkley (D-Ky) said the proposed $20 cut—which would cost the treasury $2,200,000,000 in receipts in a full year—would be offered on the Senate floor.

As related by an influential party member who didn't want to be quoted publicly, Democratic strategy was to delay any final action by Congress until the eve of the excise-corporation tax reduction date.

If they could corral the votes, the Democrats then would present Eisenhower with a bill extending the corporation and excise levies but cutting the personal income tax.

If they failed to attach the $20 provision in the Senate—as seemed likely—the bill might die in a Senate-House conference and Democrats then could blame Republicans for thwarting compromise attempts.

Red Premier Gets Glamor Treatment

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet publications seem to be giving the glamor treatment to the new premier, Nikolai Bulganin. The order apparently has gone out to print pictures that make Bulganin look younger than he is.

Pictures printed while Bulganin was defense minister showed him with gray hair. His hair suddenly has become black, now that he is premier.

There is a precendent for this. For years after Joseph Stalin's hair became gray his portraits continued to show it as jet black. Only in the latter years of his life, from 1944, on, was the grayness revealed to the public.

The photo of Premier Bulganin generally used in newspapers and magazines is probably about 10 years old.

The marshall will be 60 June 11. He is still a handsome man but he is showing his years. He's been described by foreigners who've talked to him as "roly-poly." Like all the other Soviet leaders, he's quite short.

Probe of Stock Market Is First in 20 Years

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in more than 20 years the Senate today began a full investigation of the stock market. The cause: the market boom which has lasted 18 months. Prices are the highest in history.

The purposes:

1. To see if there is danger the boom may end in a bust like that of 1929. The last Senate investigation, 1933-34, grew out of that bust.

2. To examine market practices and operations under the government restrictions and regulations imposed since the last investigation.

3. To see whether new regulations are needed to protect both the national economy and the general public from excesses or disaster.

Soothing Note

The inquiry, made by the Senate Banking Committee, opened on a soothing note. The chairman, Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), emphasized he doesn't want to rock the boat — just look at it. A "friendly" inquiry, he calls it.

At least 20 top specialists in finance and industry, in and out of government, will appear as witnesses. After listening three weeks the committee will digest what it learned and then start again.

The scope of the investigation can be understood from Fulbright's statement that his committee sought as witnesses people qualified in these fields:

The general economic picture, business conditions, credit and tax policies, investment companies, pension fund and union fund participation in investments, equity financing and stock exchange member trading.

If it's Fulbright's hope calmness will pervade the inquiry throughout, it is a hope which may have been misplaced. With all those experts sounding off, heated conflict seems inevitable.

Few Reply

On Feb. 1 the committee mailed a questionnaire to 5,500 brokers, dealers, investment advisers, financial writers and economists. About 22 per cent replied.

In general the participants in the buying and selling of stocks expressed full confidence in the market. The economists as a group reflected, as Fulbright described it, a greater degree of caution.

Fulbright pointedly expressed some concern about the impulsive people who have money to invest and may make decisions on the basis of one day's testimony by one witness. He said:

"I want to suggest, merely as a cautionary reminder, that what may be heard on any single day from a high source may be attacked root and branch on the following day by an equally high source."

This was another way of saying: No matter what you hear from day to day, don't start guessing about the market until the full story is unfolded.

Million Dollar Fire Damage

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—Several business establishments in a three-building block were destroyed in a fire that caused a million dollars in damage and burned for 12 hours Wednesday night and early today.

The buildings were on Elm Street in the heart of this city of 87,000.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

99 Per Cent Approve of Red Leaders

MOSCOW (AP)—Top Soviet government and Communist party leaders—including former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov—were returned to seats in the Supreme Soviets (Parliaments) of 11 Russian republics, election returns showed today.

Party candidates piled up their usual 99-plus per cent majorities in the balloting, held Sunday. But a total of 213,937 persons voted against them.

The highest percentage of negative votes—24 100ths of 1 per cent—was recorded in the Russian Soviet Republic, comprising the greater part of European Russia. Georgia had the highest affirmative vote percentage, 99.7.

Other republics voting were the Ukraine, Uzbekhistan, White Russia, Lithuania, Moldavia, Latvia, Tadjikhistan, Turkmenia and Estonia.

Cambodia's Young King Abdicates

PARIS (AP)— King Norodom Sihanouk abdicated Cambodia's throne Wednesday in favor of his father, Prince Norodom Suramarit, the French News Agency reported. He accused opposition political parties of hamstringing his reforms in the Indochinese kingdom.

The 33-year-old monarch, host only Monday to U. S. Secretary of State Dulles at a luncheon in Pnom Penh, was quoted as saying he intends to retire to the country live a humble life "like that of my subjects."

A music-writing leader of the fight for Cambodian independence from the French, though their ally in the war against Communist rebels, Sihanouk has used withdrawal tactics before to win his points. In those cases he retained his royal authority.

The French News Agency said the Kings announced his decision in a radio broadcast. It quoted him in part:

"Certain political parties, among them the Democratic party of Son Ngoc Thanh, have intervened with the International Armistice Control Commission to prevent me from carrying out my work. That is why, today, I announce publicly my intention to abandon power and to step down from the throne.

Son Ngoc Than is a former nationalist premier whose followers have been claiming credit for the independence victories, though most of Cambodia's 4½ million people backed the King.

The King's father, Prince Suramarit, is 58. He was never king because the monarchy has been elective in Cambodia and the choice fell on his son.

Plays Sax

King Sihanouk plays the saxophone and composes popular music. He has a personal troupe of 30 dancing girls and an air-conditioned throne room. Next door to the elephant stables is a garage full of sport cars.

The black-haired King is still a bachelor, though the father of 11 children. It is said that, so far, no royal consort has found favor with the queen mother.

Senior Civil Service

The new Hoover commission studying reorganization of the federal government had to go some to match the often bold recommendations of its able predecessor, the original commission. The first report from the new group left something to be desired.

This dealt with the status of the civil service and federal workers generally. And it ignored the most ticklish problem in the field: the government security program. The commission's own "task force" studying federal personnel had urged a thorough look at security measures, but the urging gained no mention in the report.

Outsiders are not in the best position to judge detailed procedures of an adequate security system. But they can observe and weigh broad results. Recent publicized cases, especially the Ladejinsky affair, suggest that present programs produce results which now and then are confusing, contradictory, and unfair.

• • •

It would seem elementary for any organization reviewing the quality and character of our federal personnel to examine the vital security problem and make recommendations.

In spite of this omission, the Hoover group offered a good many positive proposals. Possibly the most striking was one designed to sharpen the line between career workers and political, or policy-forming employes.

The commission recommends creation of a special category of senior civil service workers, perhaps as many as 3000 in number, to serve as a corps of top managers. They would enjoy reasonably good salaries, in the expectation that men of high talents would thus be attracted to federal employment.

This proposal suggests a strong parallel with the higher levels of the British civil service, wherein the key men are the top permanent government administrators. For the British this system has worked well, not only drawing in people of good caliber but giving to the government a continuity of able performance uninterrupted by political change.

• • •

At the same time, the Hoover commission would like to see a group of "noncareer" executives who would serve at the pleasure of the president. These would be the partisan policy-makers, the representatives of the party in power. They would change as party control altered, or perhaps as policies within the party changed.

In the commission's view, the distinction between this category of workers and the regular civil service is not now clear enough, and the policy-making group at the top is not large enough to satisfy the needs and demands of party control.

It may take some real doing to draw these lines as sharply as the commission would like to see done. But the essential proposal has obvious merit. Well carried out, it could bring higher quality and steadier performance to daily government operations, while simultaneously making the federal establishment more responsive to party policies approved by the voters at the polls.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Dept. of English Bible, National Council of Churches

It is Mark alone who tells us that Jesus, during the days of His Temptation, "was with the wild beasts" (Mark 1:13, RSV). There is a sense in which Mark can be called the Gospel according to Peter. One of the early church fathers tells us that Mark was Peter's secretary, dragoman, or interpreter—the exact significance of the Greek word is not wholly clear. In any case, Mark accompanied Peter on at least some of his apostolic labors, and wrote down the Good News which Peter preached.

The first chapter of Mark looks like an account of a day in Peter's life—a never-to-be-forgotten day when the Galilean fisherman was called to leave his boats and his nets and become a fisher of men. Jesus went home with Peter, too, and healed his mother-in-law.

Early tradition places at least part of Peter's ministry in Rome. Certain words which Mark uses suggest that Peter's preaching was couched in the language of his hearers. He has a number of Latin forms not occurring in the other Gospels.

It was in Rome, too, that official action was early undertaken to exterminate Christianity. The followers of Jesus were sometimes thrown to the lions, to make sport in the arena. Couple this fact with Mark's reference to the untamed creatures that companied with Jesus during the temptation: "he was with the wild beasts" (Mark 1:13, RSV). Is this written for the consolation and encouragement of Roman Christians who might at any time be thrown to the lions?

Westbrook Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

My abstract contemplation of the hairy hummocks on the wrestling program the other night was interrupted by a summons to the devil's advocate which dwells within us all. A propaganda thing flashed on the screen, something called a "spot" in the jargon of the monster which besets our reason with plugs for brotherhood and hatred against all advocates of narrow nationalism.

Westbrook Pegler

It was an exhortation. We could help destroy "Communism" by sending each a dollar to postmaster who would forward same to Crusade for Freedom to the end that "Truth" be wafted on the waves across the Bolshevik frontier to dismal wretches yearning to be free. Each dollar would pay for 100 words of "truth." Although the "spot" did not undertake to say how many units of freedom could be smelted or distilled out of each one hundred words, the implication was plain that this process had yielded measurable results. The involvement of the postmasters all over the country bespoke authority. There was no specific word to that effect nor am I wiser for having read an editorial blurb in Collier's

Collier's said that "through the Crusade for Freedom, several million ordinary Americans are waging their own cold war across the border" and that "the results are impressive." The editorial babbled on for an entire column without a syllable of proof and came to a crest with an idiotic boast that "on the record" this Crusade deserved gifts of money from Americans. This was silly because no "record" could be winnowed from the stuff presented and I was surprised that even Collier's failed to identify the sponsors except as "The American Heritage Foundation." There are, as Congressman Carroll Reece and his committee found, more than 7,000 foundations in the United States. Most of them are sullen and abusive when asked about their affairs. The title "American Heritage Foundation" is absolutely meaningless to 999 out of 1,000 American citizens of average intelligence.

But my sales resistance was strongest at the point where an anonymous announcer, probably an actor, dwelt on the boast that "truth" would do the trick in the slave quarters of the Soviet empire. Collier's editorial, by the way, was titled "Bullets for Truth."

Now the truth about truth is that it is a hollow boast with us and a subject to be avoided by honest men who know the truth.

This Crusade for Freedom will not tell the Czechoslovakian slaves, the Poles, Balts, Ukranians, Rumanians and all the rest the truth about their delivery into the hands of their masters. They know it well, but reiteration would only rub in a frightful betrayal. It would be truthful to send these people, per little carnival baloon, another means of communication used by this "Crusade," reproductions of Eisenhower's picture shaking the bloody hand of his friend, Marshal Zhukov.

But who can imagine a truthful deed that would produce a less desirable result? We might tell them truthfully, that in 1945, when our president was serving in the Pentagon as chief of staff, someone stole from the intelligence, and apparently destroyed, proof that the Russians, not the Germans, slaughtered 14,000 Polish officers and intellectual and political elite rounded up by the Soviet armies after Russia and Nazi Germany had, between them, whacked up the nation. Would we truthfully inform them that a committee of our Congress concluded that this truth was suppressed for the sole purpose of sparing Roosevelt and Soviet Russia reprehension and hatred in the United States?

There is now before Congress a resolution authorizing investigation of one of the most frightful crimes ever committed against the rules of civilized warfare. This was the delivery to Soviet Russia of millions of Russian soldiers and civilians who so hated the Soviet horror that they joined the Germans and finally fell into American custody. These military men were prisoners of war taken by the soldier who is now our president. He owed them protection as such. It was a capital crime in each case to turn them over to Soviet Russia. Instead, however, by whose order we never have learned because the truth is concealed, the government of the United States drove them in hordes into Russian captivity.

In Berlin one day I was getting a treatment known as "briefing" from a young political agent of our State Department which was going serenly until I asked pointedly about those prisoners. Thousands of these people, soldiers and civilians, killed themselves when they realized that we had betrayed them. The brask young man asked me whether I meant those Russians in German uniform who had killed Americans on the Norman peninsula? I said, yes, those Russian fighters against Communism were some of the persons I had in mind. At that very hour in Berlin we were maintaining an armed frontier against the same Russian Communists whom these prisoners of ours were fighting when we took them into camp.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Now that the big networks are beginning to film their own shows, it looks like stars will have to choose between motion pictures and television.

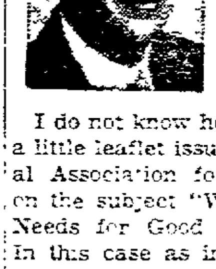
The Doctor Says:



By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Security Is a Deep-Seated Need in Every Child

I do not know how to improve on a little leaflet issued by the National Association for Mental Health on the subject "What Every Child Needs for Good Mental Health." In this case as in many others it often seems that the most important facts can be put briefly.

The point brought out by this little pamphlet is that in addition to having plenty of good food, sleep, exercise and fresh air children must have their emotional needs met also. The child's immediate happiness is important but parents who would raise their children to be healthy and stable grownups must pay attention to the emotional as well as physical requirements of their offspring.

EVERY CHILD NEEDS to feel the love of his parents and that his parents want and enjoy him and care what happens to him. The child needs to believe that his parents like him for himself, not only when he acts as they want him to but all the time, even when he misbehaves.

Security is a deep-seated need in every child. The home must be built up as a good safe place of retreat with the parents available to support the youngster when he most needs it. The protection of the home and parents when a youngster becomes frightened — as every youngster does sometimes— gives renewed confidence and fulfills a basic need.

EVERY CHILD NEEDS to know that his parents want him to grow up, that they have confidence in him, and encourage him to try new things for which he is ready and that they do not hold him down with too firm a hand.

The parents are also basically responsible for helping a child to develop such moral qualities as courage, honesty, generosity, and kindness. Children are imitative and if they find their parents possessing such qualities they will, in GUIDANCE IS ANOTHER element which every child needs. He is helped in his first halting trys at walking and should have aid for many years in the problems of life and behavior towards others which the parents have already learned themselves. Finally, the leaflet points out that a child should know that there are limits as to what he is permitted to do and that while he may become angry or jealous such feelings must be held in check and not allowed to hurt others.

All these recommendations sound simple enough but no doubt all of us who are parents can remind ourselves of these points with profit from time to time all likelihood, develop them also.

Woman Should Plan Now for Time When Children Leave

The busy years when her children are still at home and in school are the years when a woman should start laying the foundation for the time when they will be gone and once again she and her husband will be alone.

It is easy for a woman engrossed in her children's lives and busy doing things for them to put off until they are gone planning for the day when they won't be around to fill her life.

But easy as it is—it is a big mistake. So while the children are still at home a woman should be making new friends and keeping up with old ones. For nothing eases the shock of finding that a family has dwindled down to husband and wife like having friends and a busy social life.

Another thing the wife should be doing is sharing some hobbies and forms of recreation with her husband—things the two of them enjoy doing together.

PLAN NEW INTERESTS

If she never goes with him on a business trip—because of the children—or never shares his love of hunting or fishing or whatever, it will be a little late to try and establish that kind of companionship after the children are gone.

The time when the last child leaves home is a heart-breaking one for the husband and wife who through the years have had few interests in common except their children.

No matter how full those years seemed to be when the children are gone life will seem unbearably lonely to both, unless they have other interests to absorb them.

So you boast that you never go anywhere without the children— take a look into the future and see how lonely it is going to be when the children are no longer around.

Sorry You Didn't Buy Some Stocks?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— Been kicking yourself because you didn't make a killing by buying stocks a year ago?

You're wife been asking how come you weren't as smart that way as she was given to understand before she married you?

Well, take heart. Some U. S. Senators start wondering out loud today about how come stock prices went up so much faster and higher than they and most people had expected.

And there are a lot of "financial experts" in this town—and perhaps in your town, too—who didn't foresee how big the bull market would grow either.

The Senators may, somewhere along in their study of the stock market, point a finger at "you"—the public. For the public didn't act the way some financial experts figured it would a year ago.

At that time the stock market already had been climbing sharply for several months. And many experts thought it was due for a setback, or at least a slowdown in the rate of climb.

Industrial production was slipping at that time, and the experts thought public confidence would be shaken.

But it didn't turn out that way. The public went right on spending its money for what it really wanted, when it thought the price was right. So, many corporations did right well in making profits and handing out dividends.

And the public unpredictably dropped the aloofness to the stock market which it had maintained since the unhappy days of 1929. It has been in the market in recent weeks, trading tips and rumors, and pushing up prices.

The Senators may ask some questions about that—about the tips and the rumors and the extent of public's urge to speculate.

But it's doubtful if many experts saw it coming.

Teachers Remain On Strike

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—A large group of Irving school employes, many of them teachers, stayed on strike today despite a state school official's advice to get back on the job.

Citizen volunteers continued to man the posts of the absentees.

The employes, in protest over the dismissal of Dr John L. Beard, 57, as superintendent, voted Monday to stay off the job until he was reinstated. They said his unexplained firing was unfair.

The Irving School Board, headed by President Charles E. Young, since has fired nine school executives, including seven principals. Wednesday, the board said all employes who failed to report for duty or who failed to say they would return were discharged automatically.

William S. Ward, spokesman for the striking employes and one of the seven principals fired, said that included 126 classroom teachers out of 198 usually in the schools. Others absent, he said, included 9 out of 10 principals and other executives, 34 maintenance workers, 42 lunchroom workers, and 10 of the 11 office employes.

Beard formally notified the School Board Wednesday night that he was appealing his dismissal to the state commissioner of education, Dr. J. W. Edgar.

Dry Comment

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—The San Angelo Standard-Times got a lot of weighty opinions and long letters when it mailed out questionnaires for a news roundup on West Texas economic conditions.

And then there was the one banker who summed up droughty West Texas' troubles in three words:

"Too damn dry."

Report on 'Hidden' Alcoholics

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The State Welfare Department Wednesday issued a report calling for the reduction of the "hidden alcoholic" population of Illinois.

The report, based on a study of "public" alcoholics in Cook County and made by Portal House of the Chicago Committee on Alcoholism, said "hidden alcoholics" constitute about three fourths of the total alcoholic population.

It added that this class is the most receptive to treatment and preventive measures.

The report recommended that the state establish in the State Welfare Department a "workable program for the treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics."

At a news conference, Dr. Otto Bettag, department director, said some preventive and treatment work was being conducted by department mental health outpatient clinics now established in Chicago, Rockford, Peoria and Springfield.

On a smaller scale, similar work was being encouraged at Joliet, Bloomington and East Moline clinics, he said. The department also has in-patient treatment of alcoholics in state mental hospitals.

Present at the conference were state senators supporting a bill to create a 15-man commission on the care of alcoholics. It would have $20,000 for expenses in studying state and private facilities for alcoholics and would report by March 1, 1957.

Hunter Misses Death as Lion Charges Him

MCCOY, Colo. (AP)—Jimmy Day, 60, a government trapper, dived into a snowbank to escape the charge of a wounded mountain lion.

His companion Ira Virden, 42-year-old McCoy rancher, then killed the animal, but said it took seven shots from his .22-caliber pistol.

Virden and Day had been hunting the big cat since Jan. 16 after it killed 15 of Virden's sheep. Day said the lion also had killed 11 deer in recent weeks. Dogs had treed the lion shortly before it leaped at Day.

Before standard time was adopted in the United States in 1883 there was a difference in time of five seconds between the two ends of the Brooklyn Bridge.

He Gives Man Equality, Thus He Reaps Fortune

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Anybody can make money today who can show men a way to compete successfully with women.

At least partly because of this fact, Arthur O Bregstein is reaping a fortune. He is doing it by operating on the theory that, while a wife may be at home on her range, there is no reason why a husband can't be a king in the family kitchen, too—if cooking is made so simple even his feeble masculine mind can learn how to do it.

Bregstein found the answer in the new rotisserie-type electric broilers which in just a few years have created a culinary revolution in America.

In 1950 Bregstein, who had begun his career as a representative for concert artists, was operating a small electrical firm that made sockets and switches in a one-floor Manhattan loft. One night, while watching chickens turning on a gas fired rotisserie in a French restaurant, he mused:

"If a woman could do that at home, wouldn't it be wonderful?"

He investigated and found home rotisseries had been sold in this country at least since 1933, but had never caught on widely. For one thing, they were too complicated.

Bregstein put some engineers to work on the project. Two years later he had developed a simplified, portable electric broiler that cooked with infra-red rays and had automatic controls and timing devices.

One of his ideas for creating customer demand was to hire a home economics expert to write a cookbook giving hundreds of menus and telling how to cook them on the new-type broilers. The book now is in its second million printing.

The electric broiler industry had about a nine-million-dollar retail sales volume in 1951. Last year it was approximately 150 million. Bregstein estimates that his own firm, the Roto-Broil Corp., largest of nine concerns in the field, does about 45 per cent of the total volume.

Bregstein himself was amazed at first to learn from surveys that the broilers had won as much favor with husbands as with wives.

Bachelors, who have found they can use the broilers to cook their breakfast at bedside, have turned out to be another surprise market.

'Incident' at Border Leaves One Wounded

CHICAGO (AP)— A "border incident"—the border between Chicago and suburban Evanston—left a youth in a hospital today with a a bullet wound in the heel.

It involved four young men and a girl who live in Evanston and David Anderson, 16, who lives near the Evanston boundary in Chicago.

The girl, Dorothy Miller, 16, told police the Evanston boys were opposed to dating of Evanston girls by Chicago boys. In her case, she added, the objections dated back to last week, when she attended a party in the Anderson home.

Detective Edward Gleason said the girl gave this account:

She and another girl were near the Anderson home Wednesday night, when the Evanston boys accosted them. They all went to the Anderson apartment. Anderson came to the door with a .22 caliber rifle, chased the boys to the street and fired.

Richard Petroski, 17, was wounded in the heel.

Anderson, taken to the Juvenile Home for questioning, said he intended only to scare the Evanston youths.

Find Dixon Man Guilty Of Assault

Battle of the Wine Bottle Ends In Jail Sentence

County Judge Grover Gehant today ruled that Archie Duncan, 62, Dixon, was guilty of aggravated assault and sentenced him to 30 days in the county jail.

Duncan was charged with "badly" beating Steven Pomones, 70-year-old Dewey hotel manager, with an empty wine bottle and his fists early Jan. 9.

Judge Gehant explained that he was taking into consideration the fact that Duncan has been confined in the county jail since the assault took place.

Duncan "Aggressor"

After hearing conflicting testimonies from Pomones and Duncan, Judge Gehant said the case was "close" but ruled that Duncan was the "aggressor" in a fight in Duncan's hotel room.

State's Atty. James E. Bales and Public Defender L. J. Sarven brought the trial to a head after an hour of conflicting testimony by agreeing that Duncan went a little "too far in defending himself."

Pomones claimed that Duncan had been drinking and was causing a disturbance in the hotel about 3 a.m. Jan. 9. He said he knocked on Duncan's door and told him to "quiet down." He testified that Duncan hit him in the head with the bottle as he entered the room.

He later admitted that he entered the room, picked up the partially filled bottle, and emptied the contents down a basin drain. He contended, however, that he then laid the bottle down on top of a dresser.

He testified that Duncan then "got mad, grabbed the bottle and hit me along side of the head."

He described that Duncan "continued to hit me and kicked me in the chest after I fell to the floor."

Life Threatened

Pomones added that he was "very dizzy" but he heard Duncan say, "You damn Greek, I'll kill you," and fell unconscious.

Dixon KSB hospital officials later described Pomones' condition as "critical" when he was brought in by ambulance and were uncertain if he would live through the night.

Duncan's defense was that he fought Pomones in "self-defense" and reasoned that he was entitled to do this because, "My room was my castle."

Duncan's version was that Pomones unlocked his door with the hotel's master key, "mumbled something," poured the contents of a pint of port wine down the drain, and "attacked" him with the bottle.

He said that Pomones, who is eight years his elder, came at him like he was going to "tear me limb from limb."

He explained that Pomones then started choking him and that he fought him off with "my only weapon"—his hands.

Duncan later admitted that Pomones' act with the wine had "upset" him and told of spending most of the time previous to the "scuffle" in a tavern.

He admitted having "a few glasses of beer and a drink of wine" during the night.

"Sitting Quietly"

He added that he was "sitting quietly in his room by the window while waiting to go downstairs "to have a bowl of oyster stew" when Pomones entered his room.

Under Judge Gehant's questioning, Duncan said he couldn't remember if Pomones was unconscious after the fight and didn't remember how he got out of his room.

"The next thing I remembered," Duncan explained," was that I was behind bars."

Welfare, Public Aid Ask $120 Millions Increase

Budgetary Commission Receives Estimates

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Two of the state's biggest spending agencies are asking over a half billion dollars to carry out their responsibilities in the two years starting July 1.

The results, submitted Wednesday to the State Budgetary Commission, represent an increase of about 120 million dollars over estimated expenditures during the current fiscal period.

The State Welfare Department placed its needs at 247 million dollars, including $141,084,800 for operations and $106,521,000 for new construction, rehabilitation and additions at 11 mental hospitals and 14 other institutions.

The sums represented increases of $31,356,310 for operations and $88,004,356 for capital improvements over amounts granted by the 1953 General Assembly.

More Public Aid

The Illinois Public Aid Commission put in a bid for $284,868,000 to meet expected costs of relief, old age, blind, dependent child disability help payments during 1955-57 This would be nearly a million dollars more than actual disbursements for 1953-55.

The Budgetary Commission, which hopes to wind up hearings Friday, will make its recommendations later to Gov. Stratton and the Assembly.

Dr. Otto L. Bettag, state welfare director, said his figures did not take in account about 10 million dollars in additional spending he will propose from the mental health fund, a restricted revenue source supported by payments from mental patients and their relatives

After Bettag outlined his case, Sen. Everett R Peters (R-St. Joseph), commission chairman, said "you have thoroughly convinced us of your needs" and that request for operating money would be carefully considered.

When the session was over, Rep. Ora Dillavou (R-Champaign) a commission member and House Appropriations Committee chairman, told a reporter the only way funds could be provided for the proposed capital improvements would be through raising the state sales tax or enactment of legislation to set up a state building authority with bond issuing powers.

More For Salaries

Of the operating increase, two thirds —or abount 21¼ million dollars—would go for higher salary expense. Another five million would go for institutional maintenance and repair, $2,336,000 for commodities and $1,434,000 for equipment.

The proposed expenditures would allow for an anticipated 4 per cent increase in welfare institution patient population, during the coming two years, Bettag said

He said substandard salary schedules are contributing to difficulties in fully and completely staffing institutions, and that higher levels proposed would help solve this problem.

In the mental hospital system, the capital improvements would provide for 4,500 additional beds, he said, and reduce overcrowding to that extent

Give Breakdown

These amounts were sought at the various mental health service establishments· Tinley Park State Hospital $10,725 800, Galesburg State Research Hospital $3,639,000, Alton $7,974,800, Anna $5,836 000, Chicago State Hospital $5,053,000, Dixon State School $10,873,000, East Moline $6,555,000, Elgin $11,630,000, Jacksonville $7,314,000, Kankakee $6,294,000, Lincoln State School $5,180,000, Manteno $10,583,000, Peoria $2,051,000 and Illinois Security Hopsital $673,500.

President to Stay on Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will stay tonight in his new farm home at Gettysburg, Pa It will be his first overnight stay there.

The President arranged to drive to the 189-acre farm this afternoon. The White House announced he would be accompanied by Charles H Tompkins, the Washington contractor handling construction of the Eisenhowers' new home

The home at Gettysburg is just about completed and already is partly furnished.

At the U S airbase at Thule, Greenland, men see the sun for the first time in four months each February and in April they start four months of perpetual daylight.

Knowland Sees No New Policy in Far Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Knowland (R-Calif) said at the White House today that he sees no new policy in President Eisenhower's statement that this country is "not going to be a party to an aggressive war' to recover the Chinese mainland for Chiang Kai-shek.

That interpretation of the President's news conference remark took a place somewhere between these widely divergent views from other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) — "We can now write off any possibility of Chinese Nationalist return to the mainland"

Sen H Alexander Smith (R-NJ) —The President was telling the world that the Nationalist army is held ready to strike if the Communists break the truce in either Korea or Indochina

Talks With Ike

Knowland the Senate Republican leader, discussed the subject with newsmen after a breakfast conference with Eisenhower. He said the talk over coffee cups delt with foreign policy and the congressional legislative situation generally, but he declined to go into detail.

In his meeting with reporters Wednesday Eisenhower was told that Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has said he is expecting U. S. moral support and help from the standpoint of supplies for an invasion of the Chinese mainland, now held by the Communist regime.

Asked whether this government has given the Chinese Nationalists any reason to expect such support, the President replied that he feels the whole matter has been discussed so thoroughly there can be no question of America's attitude on the matter. Then he added·

"The United States is not going to be a party to an aggressive war that is the best answer I can make"

Position Clear

Newsmen asked Knowland whether he regarded that as an enunciation of a new policy

"No" the senator replied, "I have never myself suggested that an aggressive war be waged. Our position out there has been thoroughly understood

"It's a defensive posture"

Knowland said the situation with respect to the China mainland is similar to that in Poland, Czechoslovakia and other satellite nations. He said his hope is that those satellite countries some day may be free

Dukes Top Wildcats, 85-39; Newman Wins

Dixon, Newman Collide Tonight

Sterling, Rock Falls Meet In First Game at 7 p. m.

ROCK FALLS—Dixon and Newman clash in the second game of the Rock Falls regional tournament semi-finals here tonight after both clubs rang up lopsided wins over first-round opponents Wednesday.

Dixon had an easy time of it as the Dukes raced past Franklin Grove, 85-39, while Newman pressed Prophetstown out of the tourney with a 100-69 decision.

Tonight's first game will send tourney favorite Sterling against Rock Falls at 7 p.m. Both clubs won openers Tuesday night. The Dixon-Newman game is scheduled to go on at 8:30 p.m.

Coach Lon Scofield used his starting five for only 12 minutes of the game and with two exceptions, used the second team the rest of the way.

Scofield again started an all-senior five and then sent in four juniors and a sophomore.

Wildcats Score First

The seniors, Don Nafziger, Rudy Gasser, Ken Sheely, Ed Slain and Pat Kernan, racked up a 26-11 first period lead as they hit well from outside at times but had trouble scoring close in.

Franklin Grove scored the first basket when Lowell Brickey hit on a set shot and then Dixon ran up an 8-2 lead and was never in trouble.

The second five for the night, Gary Reeder, Ken Mueller, Joe Cushing, Max Akerman and John Wooten, took over in the second half and bettered the seniors as they outscored Franklin Grove, 28-11. The halftime score saw Dixon in front, 54-22.

Scofield sent in his starters to open the second half and after four minutes removed them. In the final period, he sent Kernan back and later removed him for Slain.

Took 102 Shots

The Dukes, with a big height advantage, scored pretty much at will against the Wildcats who were game but outclassed.

The scoring chart indicates the effectiveness of Dixon's height as they got 102 shots at the basket and made 35 field goals for 34 per cent. Franklin Grove got 62 shots and made 14 baskets.

Dewain Hecathorn was the leading scorer for Franklin Grove. The little guard, scoring mostly on drive-ins and at the free throw line, had 16 points.

Ken Mueller, with 15 points, mostly on rebounds, paced the Dukes while Gasser had 10. All 10 of the Dukes broke into the scoring column.

Press Too Much

Newman's press proved too much for Prophetstown. The Comets rattled the Prophets at the very start by stealing the ball and fast breaking their way to a 26-10 first period lead as they picked up nine baskets and eight free throws while limiting Prophetstown to just one basket and eight free throws.

From there on it was just a matter of how high the Comets could run up the score. The Prophets lost all poise and self control in that first period and didn't get it back until after Newman had taken a 50-27 lead late in the second quarter. At halftime, Newman led, 52-33.

Bill McDonnell, a reserve, had the honor of racking up the 100th point as he rammed in a rebound with five seconds left in the game.

Don Stein, who spent much of his time at the free throw line, led the Comets with 27 points, 15 of them coming on charity shots. Doug McGinn had 18 points. Ron Kilberg had 17 points to lead the Prophets while Gail Melton, hitting on long set shots, had 13 points.

Julio Mederos KOs LaStarza In Fifth Round

MIAMI (AP) — Julio Mederos, an unheralded Cuban Negro who had flunked his two previous tests against American "name" fighters, moved strongly into the heavyweight picture today after a smashing knockout victory over Roland La Starza.

The powerful Mederos gave La Starza, once a top-ranking title contender, the worst beating of his career before knocking the New Yorker unconscious with a booming right to the jaw in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder Wednesday night at Miami Stadium.

Mederos, a 4-1 underdog, had been outpointed by Bob Satterfield of Chicago and Harold Johnson of Philadelphia in his only two earlier fights with well-known opponents.

Mederos dropped La Starza to his knees with a right to the jaw as the bell sounded ending the first round. Another thudding right to the head dumped La Starza on the seat of his pants at the start of the third.

During the remainder of the third, La Starza took brutal punishment as Mederos pursued him around the ring, driving home 16 consecutive rights to the head. But the game and durable New Yorker kept his feet and Mederos was arm-weary as the round ended.

La Starza was counted out at 1:27 of the fifth after a right flush on the chin dropped him flat on his back. The Bronx fighter, who was stopped by Rocky Marciano in the 11th round of a 1953 title bout, said it was the first time he had been knocked unconscious.

Gola Makes All-America For Third Straight Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Led by famed Tom Gola, the first to make the team for three consecutive years, players from LaSalle, Ohio State, San Francisco, Duquesne and Furman were named today to the 1955 Associated Press all-America basketball team.

The 6-7 Gola, who led LaSalle to the NCAA title a year ago, dominated the voting from 223 sports writers and broadcasters. Regarded as the best current performer in the college game, the Philadelphia star polled 1,455 points on [illegible] first-place votes and nine seconds.

Robin Freeman, the pint-sized 5-11 Ohio State star, was second with 955. Big Bill (The Stuffer) Russell with San Francisco's No. 1 ranked team followed with 748. Next came Duquesne's Dick Ricketts with 725 and Furman's Darrell Floyd, who stepped into the shoes of Frank Selvy and was tops among the major college scorers.

Floyd earned his place on the first team by edging Indiana's Don Schlundt, 585 points to 577.

Thus the 6-10 Schlundt missed a chance to make the team for the second straight year and had to be content with topping the second team. Dickie Hemric, the Wake Forest star who set a four-year scoring record last weekend; Si Green of Duquesne; Dick Garmaker of Minnesota, and Ron Shavlik of North Carolina State rounded out the second quintet. Hemric polled 535 points, Green 487, Garmaker 393 and Shavlik 360.

Honorable mention went to Jack Stephens of Notre Dame, Frank Ehman of Northwestern, Bill Ridley of Illinois, Chuck Mencel of Minnesota and Carl Cain of Iowa.

KEN MUELLER OF DIXON (ball over his head) has just pulled in a rebound under the Franklin Grove basket and prepares to whip it down to Joe Cushing (far right), who is breaking for the Dixon basket. Max Akerman also is taking off to be in position for a pass if Cushing runs into a strong defender. Trying to tie up Mueller are Stan Haenitsch (22), Joe Stevens (21) and Bill Lincoln (3), all of Franklin Grove. Dixon won the game, 85-39.

LaSalle-Peru Scores 53-33 Victory Over Blue Raiders

LASALLE—(Special)—Walnut's Blue Raiders bowed out of regional tournament competition here last night when LaSalle-Peru racked up a 53-33 decision over the Raiders. In the second game, Mendota edged Depue, 57-52.

The Raiders had one of their poorest shooting nights of the season when they connected on just nine basekts for 59 shots for a .152 average. LaSalle, meanwhile, hit 24 for 64 for a .375 mark.

LaSalle jumped off to an 15-9 first period lead and was never headed. The Raiders were never close after they tied the score at 2-2.

Bob Parnisari with 15 points, was high for LaSalle while Denny Snider had 12 points to lead Walnut.

After being held to a 28-28 halftime tie, Mendota edged out to a 47-44 third period lead and increased the margin by another two points in the final quarter to top the Ohio district winner, Depue.

Dick McMahon had 22 points to lead Mendota while Bill Bernatavich had 18 to pace Depue.

Pickings Slim For NCAA, NIT Tournaments

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Oklahoma City University and Bradley University, a pair of teams which have lost more games than they have won this season, were named today as the last two "at large" teams for the National Collegiate basketball championships.

By the Associated Press

The NCAA, which once had a nice, cozy eight-team basketball playoff, runs a 24-team elimination now which matches 15 automatic entries (mostly conference champions) and nine at-large choices. Trouble is, the crop of still available independents is so poor, they might as well plow it under and hope for a better yield next season.

NCAA selectors have two at-large teams to name for the western regionals and they are scheduled to play each other Monday or Tuesday.

As of today, Oklahoma City, Drake and Bradley are reported under consideration for one berth. Those three have managed to win a combined total of just 25 games all season—including the results of five games played against each other.

It seems incredible, but Bradley would seem to have the toe hold despite a 7-19 record. The Braves, who closed out a 16-game losing streak Monday against Wichita, apparently won the "elimination" by defeating Drake 90-73 in their regular season finale Wednesday night.

Bradley, the NCAA runnerup last March, and Drake split with Oklahoma City, which has a 9-16 record. Darke is 9-12.

Bradley had only a 14-13 record when it entered the title tournament a year ago.

The National Invitational Tournament hasn't had much greener pastures from which to work. It has only one vacancy in the 12-club pairings, and that berth will be filled by the Missouri Valley conference runnerup (either St. Louis or Tulsa). The champ goes to the NCAA.

U. S. Hockey Club Falls to Russia, 3-0

DUSSELDORF, Germany (AP)—Al Yourkewicz, coach of the United States national amateur ice hockey team, predicted today Canada will beat Russia 4-1 Sunday to win its 15th world title.

Yourkewicz's team lost 12-1 to the Canadiens and bowed to the Russians 3-0 Wednesday to all but drop out of contention for the championship won by Russia last year.

WHAT'S TH' SCORE
by Norm Jollow

AFTER POSTING A 19-4 RECORD for first round tournament games we're ready to try again. The first round was relatively easy although our predicted upsets failed to materialize.

AT ROCK FALLS, we like Sterling over Rock Falls and Dixon over Newman. The Dixon game has us a little worried. We're sure that the Dukes have the ability to beat Newman but they will have to play it sharp and can't afford to make too many mistakes or get careless.

AT ROCHELLE, we'll take Oregon over Mt. Morris. The Mounders' hopes suffered a severe jolt when they lost center Dick Highbarger. Height will tell in this game.

At LaSalle, we'll string along with Princeton over St. Bede and pick LaSalle over Mendota.

At Belvidere it looks like Belvidere over South Beloit and at Freeport, we'll take West Rockford over Aquin and Freeport over a tough district team, East Dubuque.

TICKETS FOR THE ROTARY CLUB sponsored All-Sports banquet to honor Dixon high school varsity athletes, are on sale at Owens Sports shop, Hank Henry's and the Manhattan Cafe. Parents of the boys will be given first chance at buying the limited number of tickets this week. They will go on sale to the general public next week. Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame's all-American quarterback, will be the guest speaker.

* * *

We understand that Geneseo did a masterful strategic job on East Moline last night in scoring a major upset. The Maple Leafs forced East Moline to abandon its 1-3-1 defense by stalling every time the East five tried to set up that way. As soon as the Moline club broke up its defensive pattern and came out, the Leafs began their attack with quite a bit of success.

EXCITEMENT IS EXPECTED to creep in beginning tonight at the Rock Falls regional after four one-sided first round games. Particular interest centers around the Dixon-Newman game where the question is which will win out, Dixon's height and semi-control game or Newman's press and fast break. It will be interesting to see.

Scores of the game will be available by calling 2-1111 after 10 p. m.

Bad News Creeping Into Spring Training Camps

By the Associated Press

Baseball's spring training season has been under way only three days but already bad news, both physical and monetary, has started to seep out of the camps.

The physical bad news, for the most part, concerns players who were nursing ailments when the 1954 campaign closed. From a monetary angle the Kansas City Athletics absorbed the latest financial pains as punishment for disobeying baseball's law forbidding any form of organized practice before March 1.

Physically such well-regarded players as the Phillies' Curt Simmons, the Cardinals' Tom Alston, the White Sox' Cass Michaels, the Athletics' Wilbur Shantz, the Tigers' Ferris Fain and the Dodgers' Don Hoak caused their bosses concern. And the New York Yankees received the bad news that second baseman Billy Martin will not be available this year since he isn't slated to get out of the Army until Oct. 6. Originally, the Yanks had hoped to have Billy the Kid in uniform by early July.

Simmons reported his pitching arm, troublesome last year, is still bothering him.

Michaels was forced from Wednesday's workouts at Tampa with an attack of dizziness. The veteran infielder suffered a skull fracture last August when he was struck by a pitched ball. He was advised to rest a few days.

Shantz, considered to have a chance to become the transported A's first-string catcher, complained of periodic pains in his side and was sent to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore. He may undergo surgery for removal of a growth between the ribs.

The Cardinals are awaiting a physician's report on Alston, the club's $100,000 first baseman who was a disappointment last season. An examination was scheduled to determine if he has overcome a thyroid deficiency.

Hoak, Brooklyn third baseman, lost a nail on his right toe when he was hit by a batted ball during Wednesday's workout at St. Petersburg.

Manager Bucky Harris has waived regular training routine for Fain. The veteran first baseman's injured knee has been bothering him in early drills at Lakeland.

Commissioner Ford Frick fined the Athletics $250 for violating the opening daet rule and slapped penalties of $50 each on five regulars—Arnie Portocarrero, Charlie Bishop, Forest Jacobs, Louis Limmer and Wilbur Shantz. Rookie pitcher Bill Oster was fined $25 and club house man Yip Crompton $50 for making club house facilities available.

On Monday Frick fined the Milwaukee Braves $500 and 14 players a total of $625 also for starting the training season before the scheduled date.

The commissioner said he fined the Athletics less than the Braves because "Kansas City officials were not present at the workouts, they knew of no workouts and authorized no workouts."

Oregon, Mt. Morris Battle Tonight for Other Final Berth

ROCHELLE —(Special)— Rochelle's Hubs handed St. Thomas its second loss in 26 contests Wednesday night and moved into the final game of the Rochelle regional tournament with a 64-55 victory over the Tommies.

For three quarters, it was a close contest. St. Thomas led most of the first half and Rochelle was on top most of the second half.

The Tommies held leads of from one to four points during the first 16 minutes of the game and led 27-26 at halftime. The Hubs began their move in the second period and after being tied a couple of times, pulled in front, 43-39, at the end of three periods.

In the opening minutes of the final period, St. Thomas pulled to within a point, 44-43, and then the Hubs rolled, grabbing leads of 5-7 points until the final nine point margin.

Hit 46 Per Cent

Larry Ewald, 6-5 center, and Bill Larson, making his first start since a bout with the flu, were the difference for the Hubs. Ewald chipped in seven baskets, mostly underneath, and Larson hit 19 points to set the scoring pace. Bob Deig, playing on a heavily bandaged sore ankle, came through with 10 points and turned in a good floor game.

The Hubs hit 46 per cent in winning while St. Thomas had a cool night, hitting just 36 per cent. Again Ewald was a big factor as he limited the Tommie's John Zuzevich to three baskets. Jay Laudicina with 17 points, was high for St. Thomas.

The Hubs are idle now until Friday night when they meet the winner of the Mt. Morris-Oregon game at 8 p.m. Mt. Morris and Oregon battle for the other final berth at 8 p.m. tonight.

Topeka Teenagers Set Out to Prove:

All Juveniles Are Not Delinquents

KNOWLEDGE OF POLICE METHODS is part of lore of the Knights, Topeka, Kan., boys' group pledged to fight juvenile delinquency. Here Patrolman Vernon Robinson shows tear gas equipment to Knights Jim Fretz, Norman Swartz and Jack Mize.

KNIGHTS' ROUNDTABLE SESSIONS are held in Topeka police headquarters building, where Jack Watts, 19 (on table), presides. Police sponsors Robinson and Wilbur Anderson sit in.

TOPEKA, Kan.—(Special)—"The Knights," a pyramiding club of teenage boys, have set out to wipe out juvenile delinquency by earning the respect of their elders and other teenagers.

No sissies, they are "regular guys" pledged to chivalrous conduct and helping others of their own age group.

"We're going to prove we can go out and handle ourselves like gentlemen," explained Jim Fretz, 16, treasurer. "Too often folks read something about kids getting into trouble and then suspect all teenagers of doing the same thing."

The Knights conduct their meetings at police headquarters but they're on their honor when away from home for other activities. Their sworn objective: "To prove all juveniles aren't delinquents and to provide for the common defense of teenagers."

* * *

They take an oath of membership to obey the constitutions and laws of the United States and those of their own state, city and organization. New members are accepted only on recommendation of Knights who are convinced of the future good intentions of the applicant. Youths with police records are encouraged by would-be buddies to apply for membership.

A member who violates a law must face the Knights' roundtable, a judicial committee which judges and passes sentence. For violating a city ordinance, a Knight recently was sentenced to give a 10-minute talk, explaining why he should not have committed the infraction, at a regular meeting of the Knights. If he breaks parole he must wash the automobiles of all members and the two police sponsors.

It was the understanding attitude of a young patrolman that led to the organization of the club.

* * *

Quiet-mannered, affable Wilbur "Andy" Anderson, 27-year-old father of two pre-school boys, was assigned to investigate reports of teenagers' "noisy parties" in the summer of 1953. Out of this acquaintance came a request from some of the youths for permission to hold a street dance. The place later was changed to a tennis court.

When the dance was rained out, Topeka's police chief, S. R. Purdue, invited the youths to use a large meeting room at police headquarters. It was the first time many of the youths had been inside the building; for others who had brushed with the law it was the beginning of a new relationship.

Last November members of a teenage club which had changed its name from "Hooded Klan" to "The Knights" sought out "Andy," the cop who left the good impression. They asked his assistance in adopting a family for Christmas.

Anderson suggested they channel their thoughtfulness for others into a permanent organization by "adopting" buddies to help solve some of the problems of their own age group.

* * *

The youths decided to give the idea a try and organized with 14 charter members. They already have built membership to 49 with 20 applicants waiting to be processed.

"Gaining membership means a lot to the kids who are blamed for things they didn't do," Anderson observed.

Jack Watts, 19, one of the original Knights and now president of the new organization, admits that the original plan of the "Hooded Knights" was to wear hooded sweatshirts and employ some secret tactics.

"Our folks thought from the sound of 'Hooded Knights' that we were going to end up in jail but even after we changed our name it didn't convince them that the title wasn't a front for delinquency," he recalled. "Now we have an organization of which we are proud and we want to justify adult confidence in us."

* * *

The Knights have toured all divisions of the Topeka police departments and have seen special demonstrations of judo and police equipment, such as lie detectors and firearms.

"When you get to know the police setup, you see how quick they can get you," one youth remarked with unabashed frankness.

"I think I'm lucky," is the way Dave Lawrence, 17, put it on being admitted to membership by the Knights.

On his membership application one would-be member wrote: "I belong to no other social organizations and I have few good friends and I am hoping to find some good pals."

* * *

On the suggestion of a Topeka druggist, a booster organization called "The Silent Knights" has been formed by civic leaders, businessmen and fathers of the young Knights. They plan to give counsel and personal assistance when requested and match dollar-for-dollar the money the Knights themselves put into their treasury.

Last month 25 members went to Omaha, Neb., for a tour of Boys Town, and now envision a similar setup for their own state. They consider it a long-range dream that will come true someday.

Anderson and the other police sponsor, Patrolman Vernon "Robbie" Robinson, have no special formula—apart from a genuine interest in youth—to account for their popularity with the Knights, but they are agreed on this requisite:

"You've got to be one of the boys."

Extend Grain Loans a Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has extended price suport loans another year on upwards of half a billion bushels of 1954-crop grains.

The extension means the farmer-borrowers will not have to repay such loans when they fall due this spring and summer or surrender the grain to the government as full payment of loans.

The extended loans will bear 3.5 per cent interest, the same charged the first year of the loan.

In Illinois, loans on various crops are to mature on demand but not later than the following dates for each crop:

Wheat—March 31, 1956; oats—April 30, 1956; barley—March 31, 1956 and rye—April 30, 1956.

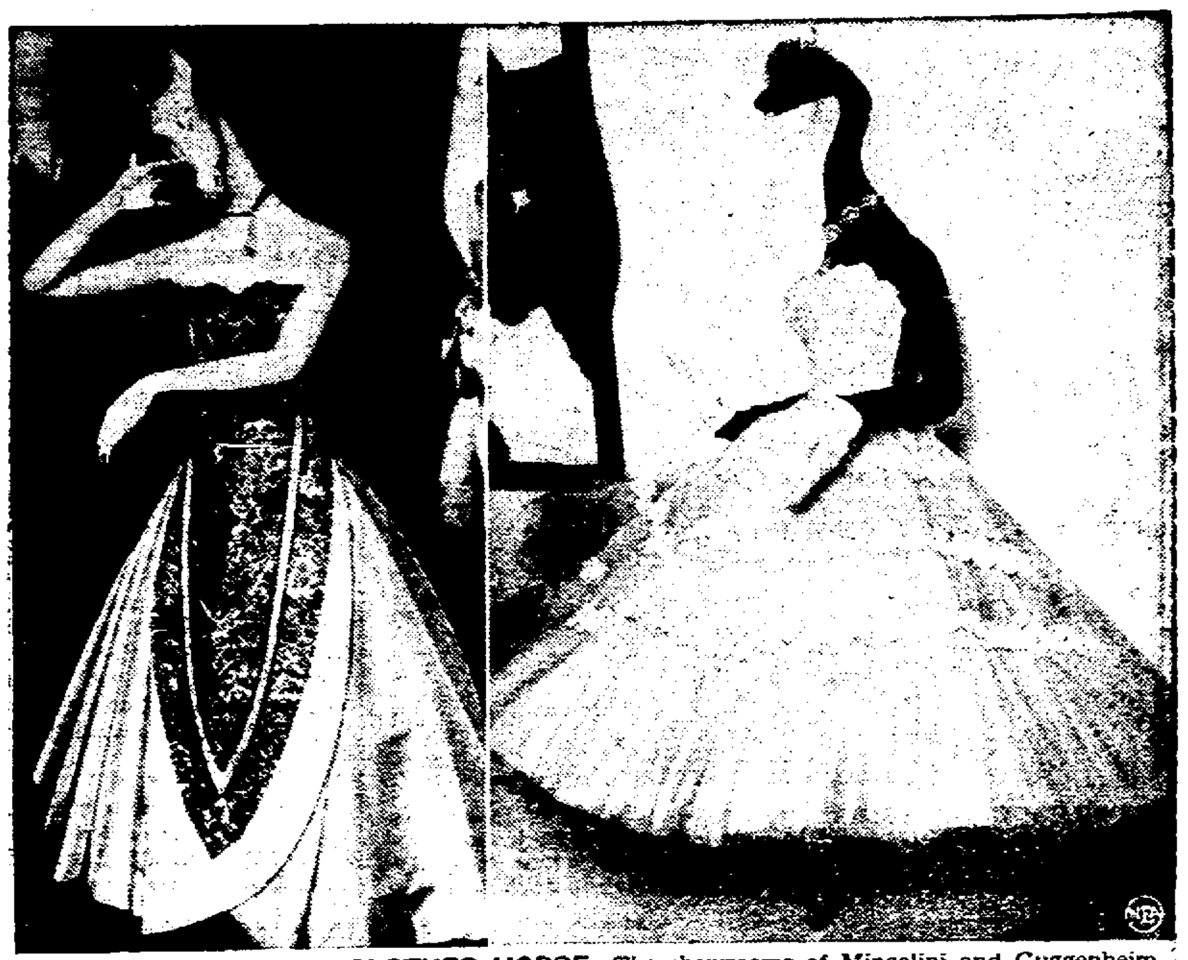
"FIREMAN, SAVE MY PUP!"—This adventurous pup chased a bird onto the thin ice of Lake Barcroft, Va., but was too scared of his shaky footing to make the return trip. Passers-by called the nearby Bailey's Cross Roads fire department. Capt. E. G. Brimsely, left, and Pvt. W. E. Thomas made the rescue. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO.

GAL WITH AN "ANGLE"—Eleven-year-old Anita Jean Sigler gets her neck-to-thigh cast autographed in an Indianapolis, Ind., hospital. The cast, which keeps Anita leaning in a 45-degree angle, except when she's in bed, is being used to correct a spine-curvature condition. Signing the cast is Nurse Mary Milburn.



WELL, I SWAN! IT'S A CLOTHES HORSE—The showrooms of Mingolini and Guggenheim, swank Roman fashion designers, look like something out of a surrealist's D. T.'s. All their creations are displayed on weird mannequins with the heads of animals and the bodies of women. Typical are the two above—A real "clothes horse" and a long-necked, black swan.

IT'S FROM TEXAS—OR IS IT?—That's some radish Billie McNeely is holding, and as you might expect, it was grown in Texas—Sulphur Springs, that is. But the Lone Star State can't take all the credit, because the giant radish is a Japanese variety grown from South African seed. Weighing 15 pounds and up, they're grown to feed dairy cattle, because the cows love 'em, top and all, and they don't flavor the milk.

EXPENSIVE SWIM—Screen Star Esther Williams, who looks as good on land as in water, models a $1000 sequin bathing suit at the Polo Ball, a society charity dance held at Boca Raton, Fla. The suit was designed especially for the dance.

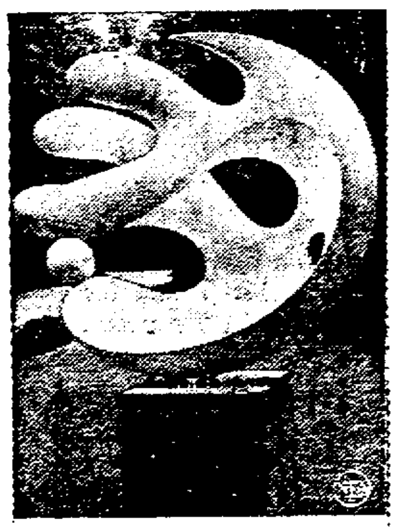
TIME OUT FOR PEACE—A warm, noonday sun removes the chilly fear of war long enough to allow this laborer to doze on a pier at Keelung, Formosa. The little girl innocently standing by adds to this serene scene on the not-so-serene stronghold of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

AGAIN AND AGAIN AND AGAIN—The way William Campbell appears to be trying to snatch Mara Corday's pearls, you might not think they are rehearsing a love scene. But they are—and Bill denies that he deliberately fluffed it so that he'd get to do it over and over. They'll appear in Universal-International's "Man Without a Star."

FUN IN COLOGNE—Flared skirt and flopping pigtails add to the frantic gaiety of carnival celebrations in Cologne, Germany. The dancer, kicking up her heels in the city's market square, is participating in the "women's carnival," which ushers in the most exciting days of the Rhineland Carnival.

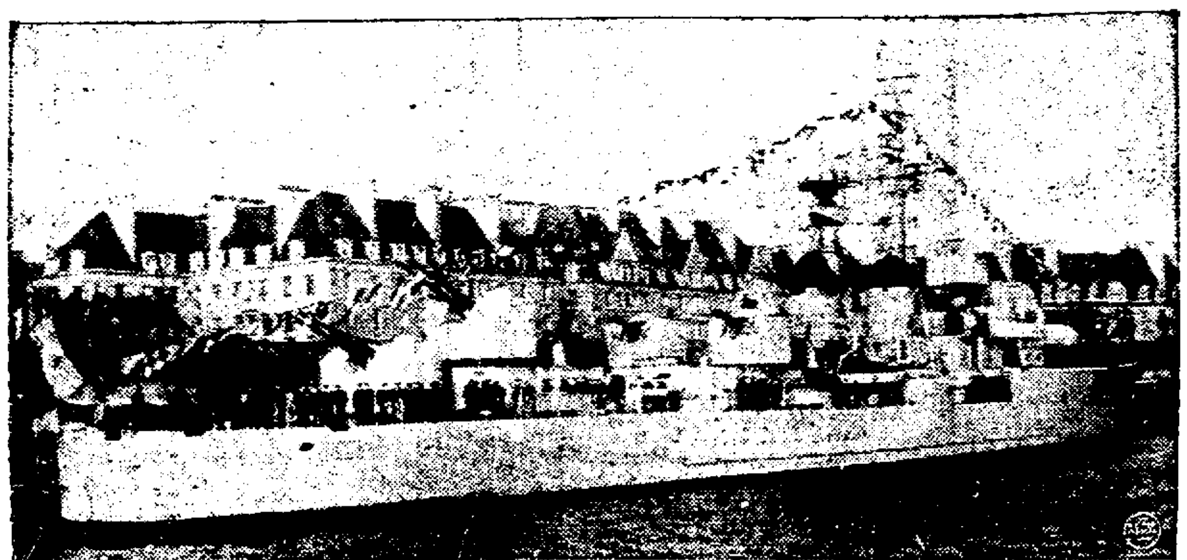
1955 GIRL SCOUT POSTER—A Scout in New York City displays poster featuring this year's Girl Scout theme, "Believe, Belong, Build." Some two million girls throughout the country are celebrating their special week ending March 12, the 43rd birthday of the Girl Scouts of America.

CAT WHO CAME TO DINNER—Dressed for the occasion, "Sparky" licks his lips as he waits for someone to pour his milk. Infinite patience got this picture for the photographer, Mike Ianetta, 17-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, high school student.



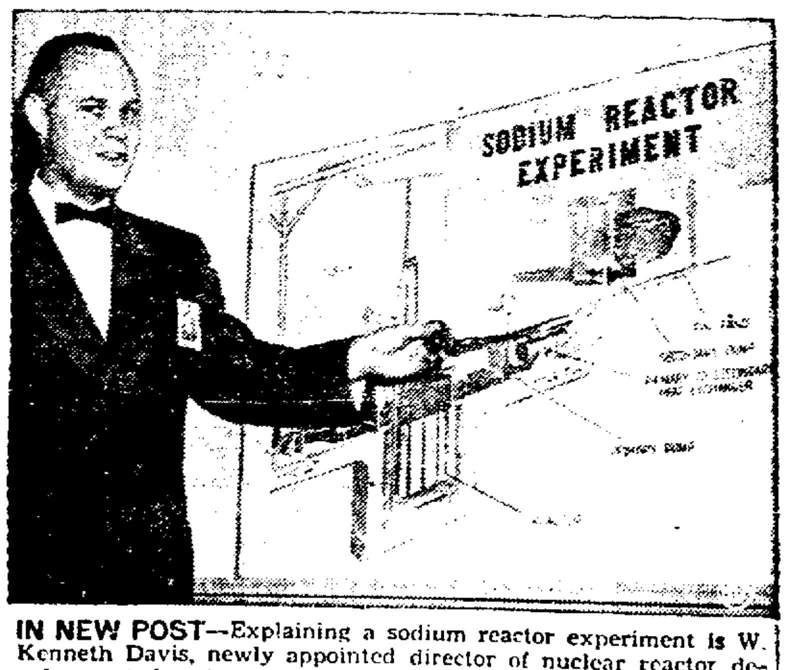
GUESS WHAT—As any one can see, pictured above is a symbol of the western world's striving for peace, a futuristic sculpture entitled "Hand of Peace." It's among the new additions at the Biennial Art Exhibition in Venice, Italy, where 27 nations have permanent pavilions dedicated to modern art.

OLD, OLD GLORY—This U. S. flag was flying over the Palo Alto, Calif., library about five months before someone noticed that it only had 45 stars. It was made some time between 1896 and 1908. Holding the flag are Wilma Reed, left, and Audrey [illegible]



IT'S A GRAND OLD NAME—A new French Navy escort vessel, called Surcouf, receives its pennant at Saint Malo, France. It was named after the submarine Surcouf, said to be the largest in the world, which disappeared during World War II.

"HOT" HEAD—Presumably just the thing for a gal carrying a torch is this "inflammable" hairdo by German coiffeur Frederic Cise-Koester. What appear to be pigtails are really meant to simulate flames.



IN NEW POST—Explaining a sodium reactor experiment is W. Kenneth Davis, newly appointed director of nuclear reactor development for the Atomic Energy Commission. Davis, besides directing the military aspects of the program, is trying to encourage private industry and public organizations to help develop nuclear energy for electric power production.

Federal Crop Insurance Set For Lee Co.

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation announced today the beginning of the 1955 crop insurance campaign in Lee County.

Crop Insurance is protection offered under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture against all production risk and is a non-profit program designed to give farmers basic protection at a low cost.

A progressive corn insurance coverage closely following the cost of each major tillage operation is available to both farm operators and farm owners in the county.

Harold Fitzsimmons, district supervisor, said the program, wherein premiums paid by producers are used only to pay crop losses, represents a sound business proposition worthy of consideration by all eligible growers in Lee County.

Farmers interested in learning further details may write or call at office located in Bickford Building, 308 First Avenue, Sterling.

Carl J. Frahm, Rock Falls, is the local representative in charge of the office.

Ogle Co. Society Hears Carlson

Rockford College Head Tells Value of History

By LILA HEUERMAN,
Telegraph Correspondent

OREGON—(Special)— History— to many people a dull subject—became a glamorous thing as Dr. Leland H. Carlson, president of Rockford College, spoke at a meeting of Ogle County Historical Society at Tilton School, Rochelle, Monday night.

History, which primarily was of a political nature has become cultural in the modern trend. Ideas are more important than kings, Dr. Carlson said.

One of the most important inventions in history was the invention of the printing press by Guttenberg. Dr. Carlson said he did not think the Reformation by Luther would have taken place if the printing press had not been invented.

History is valuable to us in that it can give us experience. History brings understanding. The present without the past is meaningless, he said.

In clos[illegible] Dr. Carlson said, "If you are [illegible]spired with what your forefathers did, you will have appreciation of the past and you can develop a common culture. He urged that all develop the unwillingness to hurt others. He stressed very seriously that we do all we can to treat all people alike so that the colored problem will not damage our reputation abroad.

The constution was read and approved with the exception of Article IV, sections 2 and 3, which were tabled. There were some minor changes.

The officers who were elected were Mrs. A. H. Beebe, Stillman Valley, president; Mrs. Harold Walker, Byron, vice president; Mrs. R. E. Etnyre, Oregon, recording secretary; Mrs. Ivan Kuntzleman, Oregon, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Yale Bates, Rochelle, treasurer.

No directors were elected because of tabling of part of the constitution.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held in Stillman Valley in May.

Church of Christ Wins Legal Victory in Rome

ROME, Italy (AP)— The American-led Church of Christ in Italy today won a broad legal victory upholding both its right to operate and to put signs on its places of worship.

A decision by Rome's tribunal sharply criticized police for twice tearing down signs from the church's temple here. It also said the small Protestant group was protected by provisions of the Italian Constitution guaranteeing religious liberty to all cults.

Rome Attorney Giacomo Rosapepe who has represented the church in its long fight to gain full recognition from the Interior Ministry, said the decision represented a big step toward that goal.

Long Fight

The church has sought vainly since World War II to obtain recognition from the ministry, which supervises non-Catholic sects. It would enable the group's ministers to operate freely and exempt their properties from taxes.

Several flareups have been reported between Italian authorities and the Church of Christ in recent years, including a brief ban on activities of the church in September 1952.

An informed Italian source said then that the friction arose over the church's missionary activities and efforts at conversions in this predominantly Roman Catholic nation. Other Protestant denominations, including the Baptists and the Methodists, have operated in Italy for years without official action against them.

Prepare Sign

Cline R. Paden of Brownfield and Lubbock, Tex., said a third sign has already been prepared to put over the entrance to the temple in the Via Achille Papa. Paden was one of the first organizers of the church in Italy.

Police removed the first sign in February, 1954. A 10-month legal battle resulted in a Public Ministry decision in favor of the church which promptly put up the second sign.

Police clad in civilian clothes pulled down this sign less than 24 hours later. The church immediately appealed to the tribunal.

The court's decision said the police and their superiors erred in their interpretation of the law and exceeded their authority. It added that the church's sign cannot be considered "a common inscription, similar to those existing over shows, stores . . ." Signs of that type are under police control.

The court emphasized that the Italian Constitution "has established the principle that all religious confessions are equally free before the law and that non-Catholic confessions have the right to organize according to their statutes . . ."

It said the Constitution also sanctioned the right of believers to "make propaganda" for their sect.

Agree on Toll Highway Link

Illinois-Indiana Road Plans Are Formulated

CHICAGO (UP)—The Illinois and Indiana toll road commissions have agreed to link toll road networks in metropolitan Chicago.

Evan Howell, chairman of the Illinois commission, and Albert W. Wedeking, executive director of the Indiana Commission, worked out the agreement.

Francis P. Old, executive director of the Illinois group, said Wednesday the two groups agreed on two connections for the Indiana turnpike at the Indiana border.

One would be constructed at the Illinois-Indiana border at Indianapolis Blvd. and 106 St., joining Chicago's Calumet Skyway to the Indiana system. The other would tie the Illinois Toll Road Commission's belt line around Chicago to the Indiana system on the Kingery Expressway. The expressway, Wedeking said, would be extended two or three miles to hook-up with the Illinois road.

Wedeking said the Indiana commission would build a north-south link to connect with the main east-west highway across northern Indiana.

Wedeking said he expected Mayor Peter Mandich of Gary to announce soon the opening of negotiations to permit the commission to acquire rights of way through the city.

The city of Gary has a suit enjoining the commission from building the turnpikes through it. But Illinois and Indiana officials said they expected that differences would be resolved and full agreement would be reached to run part of the turnpike through Gary.

The mayor said, however, that negotiations still are pending.

Filing of the suit last December caused the Indiana commission to cancel bids for a six million dollar contract for the Gary section of the turnpike.

Medical estimates indicate that a person who recovers from a cold will be immune to another cold for an average of about seven weeks.

Big Drain

In California a potato grower who uses sprinklers to irrigate his fields found that water accumulated in low places.

Rather than give up the hard-to-drain acreage, he drilled holes in the depressed areas as deep as 38 feet and two feet wide. He filled these with two-inch stones. The farmer estimated that each of these holes could drain off as much as 600 gallons per hour.

Red Snapper and Shrimp Dishes–Tampa Favorites

SNAPPER ALICANTE, flavored with onion, wine or lemon, and chopped nuts, is an old Spanish favorite.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Red snapper is a prized fish among gourmets. The Columbia restaurant in Tampa, Florida, is the oldest Spanish restaurant in North America and is famous for its red snapper dishes. We have translated one of their most asked for recipes into home kitchen terms.

Snapper Alicante
(Makes 3 servings)

One medium onion, sliced, 1 pound red snapper fillets (or fillets of some white-meated fish), ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 2 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon white wine or 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¼ cup chopped nuts.

Lay onion slices on bottom of buttered casserole. Cover with fish. Season with salt and pepper. Pour olive oil and wine or lemon juice over fish. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes at 350 degrees F. or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

The beautiful Columbia restaurant with its patio and tropical shrubs, is equally famous for shrimp dishes. So we asked for their most popular shrimp recipe.

Shrimp Supreme
(Serves 3)

One pound jumbo shrimp (about 16 to 20), juice half lemon, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 8 to 10 strips bacon, cut in half, 1 egg well beaten, ¼ cup milk, flour.

Clean shrimp but do not cook. Add lemon juice, salt and pepper to shrimp. Wrap each shrimp with piece of bacon and secure with toothpick. Add milk to egg. Dip bacon-wrapped shrimp in egg mixture, then in flour. Fry in deep fat at 350 degrees for 3 to 5 minutes, until light brown. Serve with spicy sea food cocktail sauce.

Crater Erupts Again

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP)—Massive underground explosions ruptured the scarred tip of eastern Hawaii Island anew, spewing a fountain of molten lava 200 feet into the air.

Burning rocks poured out of the ground along a half-mile strip, slashing a flaming path across fields of sugar cane.

The National Guard sent its trucks rumbling to the rescue of some 100 persons whose escape routes were threatened.

About 400 others already had been taken from their homes.

Curtis Kamai was surveying road fissures Wednesday afternoon when the earth burst open again.

"It was just like touching off a half-mile string of gunpowder," he said. "I heard the roar of lava underground. The earth was shaking.

"Then suddenly it went up like a powder train. In two minutes the whole half-mile stretch was blazing lava 100 feet in the air."

One eruption of red-hot rock landed only 200 yards from 13 plantation workers. All escaped uninjured.

The entire area was like a giant powder keg with dozens of burning fuses.

The fissure stretched out Wednesday night for a blazing mile of spurting lava which moved relentlessly toward desolate Kapoho village, occupied only by wary police and civil defense officials.

Into the night, lava fountains spouted up to 200 feet, spilled over, spread out on both sides of the flaming fissure, and pushed down toward Kapoho and the ocean at an estimated 350 feet an hour.

The main lava river spread 400 yards across.

From a knoll 300 yards above, the scene was almost unbelievable in its awesome, savage splendor. The whole corner of the island was lighted by the fiery glare.

License Gone

CHICAGO (AP)— Willis Wells is still puzzled over his missing 1955 auto license plate. He took his new plates out of his car parked in front of his home, bolted on the front plate first, then went to the rear to attach the second plate. When he finished the job, the front plate was gone. Someone had removed it while he was fastening the rear plate.

Invests Relief Checks, Leaves $16,000 Estate

DENVER (AP)—A 69-year-old pensioner who worked as a night watchman for 80 cents a night parlayed his relief check into a $16,000 estate, court records showed today.

Fred F. Gilbert, whose general assistance pension averaged $30 a month for 15 years, died of pneumonia Jan. 2.

Administrators of his estate, swelled through oil stock speculation, were ordered to return $5.675 to the Denver Welfare Department.

Fillet of Sole Served on Asparagus Is First-Rate

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Fish, skillfully prepared, is wonderful eating. Ever enjoy fillets of sole served on asparagus on toast with a subtly cheese-flavored sauce over it all? Well, we talked to David Wayne, voted "Best Actor on Broadway," about his favorite fish dishes. Sole Mornay on asparagus is No. 1 with him.

Born in Michigan, Wayne loves New York because of its wide variety of fish and shellfish. Of course, he works in New York, too, as Sakini in "Teahouse of the August Moon" and also as "Norby" on television. His wife, son, twin daughters and he often enjoy bouillabaisse and finnan haddie with egg-caper sauce. So let's look in on the David Wayne fish-loving household.

Sole Mornay on Asparagus
(Makes 3 to 4 servings)

Mornay Sauce: Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper.

In top of double boiler over direct heat melt butter or margarine and stir in flour. Gradually add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens, about 5 minutes. Add cheese and continue stirring lightly until cheese is melted. Dilute with a little milk or cream, if necessary. Add seasonings. Place over hot water and keep hot while asparagus and sole are being prepared.

Asparagus and Sole: One package frozen asparagus, 1 pound sole fillets, fresh or frozen (or other white-meated fillets), 4 slices buttered toast.

Cook asparagus according to directions on box. In the meantime, poach fillets in half a cup of water about 5 minutes (10 to 15 minutes if fillets are frozen) or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Place asparagus on toast, fish on asparagus, and top with Mornay sauce. Slide under broiler and brown for a minute or two.

Circus Animals In Picket Line

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—The International Assn. of Machinists used two rented elephants and two camels in their picket line yesterday at the Rohr Aircraft Corp., where the IAM is striking over an arbitration clause dispute. The animals wore such signs as "We Won't Settle for Peanuts" and "It's Been a Long Dry Spell Without Arbitration."

Six-Legged Dog

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Marie Newell has a six-legged spaniel puppy which frisks around undismayed at his extra pair of hind legs, which are small but perfectly formed.

See Upturn In Jobs in Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP)— A "significant upturn" in employment beginning late this month and continuing until June has been forecast for the Chicago-Calumet-Gary, Ind., area.

Roy F. Cummins, director of the Illinois Department of Labor, made the prediction Wednesday on the basis of reports filed by major employers with the Illinois State Employment Service.

Cummins said "sizable hirings" are expected in radio-television, iron and steel, transportation equipment and fabricated metals manufacturing, and in construction.

He said there was an increase of 5.000 workers in steel metal product and automotive plants during December and January running counter to usual employment declines in those months. Non-farm employment dropped, however, by 40.000 during that period. Total employment in the area, was 2,076,000 compared to 2,121,400 on Jan. 31 last year.

The labor director said the only "noteworthy decline" expected in the next few months is in the meat packing industry, because of seasonal factors and decentralization of operations.

Cummins said December weekly earnings of factory workers in the area averaged $81.96, compared to the state average of $78.82 and the national average of $74.12.

Democrats Take Lead in Lifting Gas Regulations

GOP Leaders Stand by As Measure Introduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans seemed ready today to let Democrats assume responsibility for legislation to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation.

"If this is a giveaway, it's going to be a Democratic giveaway," Rep. Halleck (Ind), assistant House Republican leader told a reporter.

Rep. Harris (D-Ark) introduced the bill Wednesday with the approval of House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex). Harris told the House his proposal was in line with recommendations made Feb. 25 by President Eisenhower's fuel policy committee.

Halleck indicated he would be for the Harris bill, having supported similar legislation in the past, but added:

"The laboring oar for this one will have to be carried on the Democratic side."

Recalls Tidelands

Referring to legislation passed by the last Republican controlled Congress giving oil rich tidelands to the states, Halleck said some Democrats denounced that as a GOP "giveaway" although it had strong Democratic support.

"Now we have a Democratic Congress," Halleck said pointedly.

Harris told the House his bill was made necessary by the Supreme Court's June 7, 1954 decision that the Federal Power Commission has jurisdiction over the production, gathering and sale of natural gas by an independent producer to an interstate pipeline company.

"If this policy . . . is allowed to stand," Harris declared, "it will destroy future exploration and discoveries of natural gas and thereby ultimately deprive the consumer of an adequate supply of this important fuel."

Bill Vetoed

President Truman's veto wiped out a 1950 congressional attempt to remove independent producers from the FPC's jurisdiction. But the commission itself ruled later that it didn't have the power anyway.

Harris said his bill would:

1. "Protect the consumer" by directing the FPC, in considering pipelines' rate proposals, to determine whether they are based on a "reasonable market price" for gas in the field.

2. "Provide justice" for a pipeline company having gas of its own by requiring the FPC to base the pipeline's rates on "the reasonable market value" of any gas produced by it.

In effect, this would write into law an April 1954 decision of the commission awarding the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. a rate increase based on the "fair field value" of its own gas.

Harris, chairman of a House Commerce Gas subcommittee, announced that hearings on his bill will be held "in the very near future."

Misunderstanding

Halleck said Congress intended to exempt producers from federal regulation when it wrote the 1938 Natural Gas Act but Rep. Heselton (R-Mass) said he thought Congress had intended to regulate the producers. Opposing the Harris bill, Heselton said he plans to sponsor legislation of his own "to develop an overall fuels policy" concerning coal, residual oil and atomic energy as well as gas.

Rep. Yates (D-Ill) termed Harris' proposal "a public be damned bill," adding in a statement that it "proposes to return to the day when the American economy was ruled by the robber barons . . ."

Harris referred in his speech to "the more than 4 900 independent producers and gatherers" of gas but Heselton said that about 60 companies sell about 85 per cent of the gas flowing through interstate pipelines.

Until the Supreme Court decision, the FPC set only the wholesale rates at which the pipelines sell gas to utility companies. The utilities' rates to consumers are set by state regulatory bodies.

Quadruple Amputee on First Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert L. Smith, the only living quadruple amputee of the Korean War, has gone to work on his first job.

Wednesday he put in his first full day, as a tabulating machine operator for the Veterans Administration. And today the VA called in reporters to show how well Smith does the job.

Smith has completed a course at the International Business Machine Co. His first assignment will be to wire the complicated panels that determine how the machine works. He was busy at it when reporters arrived.

The VA said Smith will be treated like any other employe. He's starting at $2,750 a year, and his opportunity for advancement will be up to him.

"That's the way I want it," Smith said.

The 24-year-old combat veteran was wounded in North Korea in 1950.

Frostbite set in, and it was necessary to amputate both arms and both legs. He is married and has a 16-month-old son.

Leukemia Has Increase, Claim

NEW YORK (AP)—The Robert Roesler de Villiers Foundation reports leukemia has increased 70 per cent in the United States in the last 10 years. The foundation sponsors research into the blood cancer.

Recent school physical examinations in Pennsylvania showed that about 40 per cent of the children had defects or ailments which could and should have remedial care compared to 54 per cent in 1945

Beef, Pork Are Specials For Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Specials on beef and pork will highlight offerings by the nation's food stores this weekend. In addition, a number of stores will post slightly lower prices on various cuts of lamb.

Pot roast, chuck roast and steak and round steak are among the beef items to be featured.

Loins of pork and smoked hams will be popular features. Some markets also will offer fresh pork picnics and fresh pork butts.

The meat industry has asked food markets to emphasize that pork is a lot cheaper than it was a year ago.

Pork production for the first three months of this year is estimated at 2,100,000,000 pounds against 1,813,000,000 a year ago.

Frying chickens are getting more expensive. One major chain is hiking prices this week by four cents in Chicago, six cents in New York, Boston, Detroit and Philadelphia and eight cents in Jacksonville and Washington.

Eggs, which have been moving higher in recent weeks, will come down a bit in several areas this week. Where butter prices are changed, it will generally be to the higher side.

This isn't the best time of year for vegeatbles, and the list of good buys consequently is shorter. Produce men recommend potatoes, onions, turnips, escarole, old and new cabbage, sweet potatoes, carrots, rhubarb and squash.

You Can Enjoy Sea Foods When You Aren't Near Sea

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Although far from a fishing port, Kansas City, Mo., near the geographical center of the United States, receives fishery products by the refrigerator car and truckload daily. Fillets of cod, haddock and ocean perch from New England, halibut, salmon and swordfish from the Pacific coast, shrimp from the Gulf and oysters from all coastal waters, all go into family menus.

Mrs. Ray Morrow, doctor's wife, president of St. Mary's Hospital Auxiliary, and others of other charitable organizations says she appreciates this tremendous variety. She uses a great deal of fish and shellfish in home meals. Two recipes her husband and four children especially like are these:

Baked Crab Meat and Shrimp
(Makes 8 servings)

One package frozen cooked crab meat, 1 package frozen cooked shrimp, 1 green pepper, chopped; 1 onion, chopped; 1 cup chopped celery, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 cup crumbs, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

Let crab meat and shrimp thaw. Flake crab meat; cut shrimp in small pieces. Mix sea food with vegetables, seasonings, Worcestershire sauce and mayonnaise. Place in individual scallop shells or ramekins. Toss crumbs in melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle crumbs on sea food mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Oyster-Celery Bake
(Makes 4 or 5 servings)

One pint oysters, 1 cup diced celery, ½ cup dry bread cdumbs, ½ cup coarse cracker crumbs, 5 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, dash nutmeg, 1 cup oyster liquor, ¼ cup milk.

Drain oysters and reserve liquor. Drain celery until it is tender, 3 to 5 minutes. Drain. Mix bread crumbs and cracker crumbs with butter or margarine. Put ⅓ of crumbs in buttered baking dish; add layer of half of oysters. Add layer of half of celery and parsley. Combine oyster liquor, milk and seasonings. Pour half of mixture over oysters. Add layers of another third of crumbs, remaining oysters and remaining celery and parsley, and pour remaining sauce over. Top with remaining crumbs. Bake 30 minutes at 425 degrees F.

Marilyn Monroe Gets Continuance On Traffic Count

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is free on bond in connection with a minor traffic violation, but she never posted the bond.

The $100 bond assuring she will appear to face the charge was put up last November by a stranger, Morris Brown of Champaign, Ill., who said he did it as a "friendly gesture."

The actress was due in court Wednesday, but got a continuance to April 6 after her lawyer showed the judge a letter from Miss Monroe in New York. Contents of the letter were not disclosed.

Miss Monroe was charged Nov. 21 with driving without a license.

Women Deny Scheme to Slay Grocer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— The wife and mother-in-law of a well-to-do Jacksonville grocer today denied police charges that they plotted to kill him.

Mrs. Ruth Blattner, 32-year-old brunette, said she knew nothing of a plan to do in her estranged husband, Jack Blattner, 39, for $67,000 insurance.

Her mother, Mrs. Sadie Teitlebaum, 52, admitted she offered money to a Negro to "beat up" her son-in-law because he has accused her daughter of being unfaithful, but she insisted she did not mean to have him slain.

The women were charged Wednesday with conspiracy to commit murder—a misdemeanor punishable by one year in jail—and an additional charge of solicitation was placed against the elder. They were freed on bond.

Detective Sgt. R. B. Whittington said a man the women tried to hire to do the job told Blattner and worked with police in getting evidence. The man formerly worked for Blattner.

"Mrs. Teitlebaum propositioned him," Whittington said. "She told him she'd give him $200 if he'd kill Jack."

The detective said the man, whose name was withheld, talked with Mrs. Teitlebaum several times while police listened on the telephone, or stood nearby as the two discussed the job.

GI Experiment

FT. DIX, N. J. (AP)—Two hundred recruits were inoculated Wednesday at the start of a six-week pilot study of the effects of gamma globulin upon respiratory diseases. Some 4,000 soldiers here will take part in the study before it ends April 15.

Toothpaste was first packaged in collapsible metal tubes in 1892.

Fish-Stick Buns, Easy to Make, Delight Youngsters

FISH STICK BUNS, served warm, delight the younger set. They delight Mother, too. She can whip them up in a jiffy.

FISH-STICK—WITH CUT .. .. ..

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Tommy Burns, of Lakewood, Ohio, eleven, says fish-stick buns rate tops with him and his gang. Tommy's father, Alexander Burns, a Cleveland engineer, says ditto with him. Mrs. Burns reports they are going big with other mothers in her PTA and in the clubs she belongs to. With that recommendation, let's try the Burns' buns. We might also try crumble-top cod steaks, another favorite with the Burns family.

Fish-Stick Buns
(Makes 5 servings)

Prepare fish sticks according to directions on package. Split buns and toast. On each bun half place a lettuce leaf and two fish sticks. Put a heaping teaspoon of tartar sauce on the sticks. Cover with remaining bun halves. Serve while fish sticks are warm.

Tartar Sauce: To one cup of mayonnaise, add a little lemon juice, 2 tablespoons chopped pickle and 1 tablespoon sliced olives (if desired).

Crumble-Top Cod Steaks
(Makes 3 servings)

Three cod steaks, fresh or frozen, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup crushed cornflakes, 1 cup French dressing, 2 teaspoons horseradish.

If steaks are frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Add salt to milk. Dip steaks first in milk, then in cornflakes. Place on well-greased baking sheet. Add horseradish to French dressing. Drizzle some of the dressing on the steaks. Broil in preheated broiler for 10 to 12 minutes. Heat remaining dressing and serve as a sauce.

Sour Cream Is the Secret Of San Francisco Delicacy

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Most San Franciscans have a flair for cooking sea food. We asked Mrs. Drew Chidester, who lives on Russian Hill overlooking the bay, to give us two of her appetizing recipes. She uses fillets of lingcod, sole and other West Coast fish, but any white-meated fish fillets found in other parts of the country may be used.

Fish in Sour Cream
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

Two pounds frozen fish fillets, ½ green pepper, finely chopped, 1 cup thick sour cream, 1 medium-sized onion, thinly sliced, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper.

Let fillets thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Mix green pepper with sour cream. Place onion slices on bottom of buttered casserole and top with fillets. Season with salt and pepper. Bake for 15 minutes at 425 degrees F or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove fish from oven. Preheat broiler. Spread sour cream over fish and place under broiler 3 inches from heat for 5 minutes or until top of dish is lightly browned.

Fish Mariposa
(Makes 8 or 9 servings)

Three pounds fish fillets, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 2 egg whites, 1 cup mayonnaise, ¼ cup grated cheese.

Season fillets with salt and pepper and arrange on a flat buttered pan. Bake for 15 minutes in 425 degrees F. oven but do not turn. Beat egg whites stiff and fold in mayonnaise. Fold in grated cheese. Pile this on top of fish fillets, broil 3 to 5 minutes, or until sauce is brown and puffy.

Stock Boom No Worry To Wall St.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the New York Stock Exchange, G. Keith Funston, said today the 15-month-old boom in stock prices rests on firm foundations and does not foreshadow any 1929-type crash.

Funston was the first witness called by the Senate Banking Committee in a "friendly study" of the stock market.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) who applied the term "friendly" to the investigation, said the committee wants to find out if changing government and business policies "have influenced the present behavior of the stock market for good or ill."

He's Watchful

The committee's senior Republican, Sen. Capehart of Indiana, spoke out in blunter language, declaring in an interview:

"My interest is to find out if there is any skulduggery or rigging of the market. I have no reason to believe there is, but I shall be watchful for facts or information to that end."

The inquiry opened with stock market prices already higher than in 1929 and still rising. The boom which began in September, 1953 carried prices to the highest level in their history at the close of the New York exchange Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 selected stocks rose to $162 yesterday, an increase for the day of $1.40.

Funston said in prepared testimony, however, that these prices can't really be compared with 1929 figures because, for one thing, of the substantial decline in the value of the dollar in the past quarter century.

Not Equal to 1929

"The price inflation we have seen since 1929," he said "would by itself mean that—in terms of purchasing power—prices will not reach 1929 levels until—in terms of dollars—they exceed 1929 levels by 50 per cent or more."

To guard against "skullduggery," he said, the exchange has "kept a careful watch for excesses which would indicate unsound conditions in the sale of securities either in our own market or elsewhere."

He voiced belief that present regulation of the market adequately protects the public.

National Tea Co. Reports Record Sales

Record sales increases throughout 1954 for National Tea Co. and subsidiaries, operators of National Food Stores, resulted in an even greater rate of increase in earnings, H. V. McNamara, president, has announced in the annual report to shareholders.

Total sales were $520,300,324 in 1954, an increase of 12.5 per cent over 1953 when sales were $462,281,957. Net profit, after federal taxes, was $6,519,436 for 1954 as compared with 1953 when net profit after taxes was $4,897,505. Earnings increased to $3.20 per common share on 1,970,701 common shares outstanding in 1954. This compared with $2.65 per common share on 1,707,260 common shares outstanding in 1953.

The company also had a non-recurring profit in 1954 resulting from the condemnation of its Chicago warehouse property of $1,549,251 equal to 78c per common share making a total for the year of $8,068,687 or $3.98 per common share.

Firm Expands

The increase in operating profits, according to McNamara, resulted from improvement in operations made possible by the company's expansion and modernization program in all its original branch territories.

In his report, McNamara, who rounds out 10 years as executive head of National on March 21, revealed that the company is now in fifth position in sales volume among all the food chains, and 10th among retailers of all kinds in the nation. Sales in 1954 were five times greater than 10 years ago, increasing from less than $100 million in 1944 to over a half-billion dollars for 1954. Net profit, after taxes, as a result of improvement in operations, management and expansion, over the 10 year span of McNamara's regime, increased six times, from $1,066,663 in 1944 to $6,519,436 in 1954, without taking into account the non-recurring warehouse profit.

711 Stores

During 1954, total stores in operation increased from 688 to 711. Sixty-four new stores were completed, of which 17 were relocations of previous sites. Number of stores in operation at the end of 1954 does not relfect the true picture of National's moderization and expansion program, because, although 64 new stores were opened, a number of smaller, outmoded stores were closed.

Leases have been executed for 78 new stores in 1955. Twenty-two of these will be relocations.

"We have reached another objective in our operations," McNamara reported. "As of January 15, 1955, all of our stores are complete food markets with meat department facilities for our customers. We no longer opperate the old style conventional grocery stores in any of our branches. Of the 710 stores with meat departments in operation at the end of 1954, approximately 50 per cent now offer self-service meats. More stores are being converted to this new and modern method of meat merchandising as fast as possible."

Wages Increase

Wages paid to employes in 1954 amounted to $54,299,023 as compared with $49,688,658 for 1953, an increase of $4,610,365 or 9.28 per cent. Part of this increase was due to increased rates.

As for 1955, McNamara reported that he is confident and optimistic. He pointed out that the company has improved its organization during the past 10 years to the extent that 1955 should continue to show an improvement in both sales and profits without acquisitions of any new territories or operations. He added, however, that National is capable of taking on additional operations should the opportunity arise.

Cohn Denies He Coached Matusow

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy M. Cohn says he never prompted Harvey M. Matusow to testify falsely against 13 second-string Communist leaders. And he said he had no reason to believe Matusow lied at their trial.

Cohn testified Wednesday at a federal court hearing in which the convicted Reds are seeking a retrial based on recanted testimony by Matusow, self-styled former Communist and FBI informer.

Cohn, an assistant U. S. attorney when the 13 were tried in 1952, later was chief counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which was headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). He currently is in private law practice.

Asked about Matusow's charges of coaching, Cohn told Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock:

"I had no reason to believe that he (Matusow) was not telling the truth in what he said to us in preparation of trial briefs in 1951 and 1952. We had checked documentations regarding matters he spoke of and we had no doubt.

"If there was any doubt, we would not have taken him as a witness.

"I thought he was telling the truth then, and I think so now. I never under any circumstances suggested that he make false statements and I don't think anyone else did."

Dear Editor:

The attitude of the home has so much to do with the behavior of children and adults that my short article may give help to our many readers.

You may feel that you are crushed and defeated and ready to give up in despair when tragedy and sorrow forces its icy hands upon your life while others find victory and peace of mind as they discover happiness and are able to put zest into life.

Before we can expect world peace individuals must find ways and means to conquer their own inner conflicts. The home, society and the nation are daily confronted with crucial problems which demand that wise decisions be made. Riches, power and fame do not insure happiness, success or peace of mind. We must trace our unhappiness, tangled nerves to its source and apply the remedy of discipline to ourselves otherwise we will be cheated.

It is not enough to condemn evil and drive it under cover where it is locked up until it finally explodes with damaging results. This type of discipline will cause us to carry feelings of guilt, we will hate ourselves, and develop an inferiority complex and defeat will stare us in the face. Man has been created with enough of the divine in him that he has an inner urge to use his faculties in wholesome avenues. Man can be so impressed with the idea that his sinful nature must be continually crushed that he developes fear and inner conflicts and he finally believes he is some freak of nature and doomed for destruction, misery and failure. Instead of living under condemnation man must be allowed to relax his energy and find wholesome expressions in the exercise of his God given right to think and make decisions or his divine nature will be crushed and he becomes a failure.

A halo of glory will fill your soul with assurance and security when your ideas and ideals are based on standards of justice, truth and honesty. The attributes of the Infinite Intelligence applied to your life will set you free from jealousy, hatred and envy and give you peace.

Mother Faces Grand Jury in Tot Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)— A jobless actress and dope addict was held to the grand jury today on a charge of murdering her 3-year-old daughter with tomato juice loaded with sleeping drugs.

The woman, Mrs. Lola Lazar, 26, was denied bond at her appearance before Judge George B. Weiss in Felony Court.

On Saturday she was found half conscious in her South Side hotel room with the body of her child, Fancy, in her arms. The mother's moans had attracted hotel employes who called police.

Flood Waters Receding in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Residents of towns and villages in western New South Wales pushed a vast cleanup today as floodwaters slowly receded from the devastated area. Only a few small communities were still endangered.

The minimum death toll was placed at 40, but police said the exact total probably never will be determined. Some authorities estimated the damage might run into tens of millions of dollars, but other estimates were more conservative.

Vegetable, Shrimp Dish Makes Good Family Meal

SHRIMP AND VEGETABLE CASSEROLE baked in a ring mold makes a beautiful and tasty party dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Down in Brownsville, Texas, deep in the shrimp country, the women are proud of their special shrimp recipes. Mrs. Henry J. Hebert developed a ring mold which she says her children and friends rave about. Mrs. Vergil Versaggi, whose husband is a former president of the Shrimp Association of the Americas, is mighty proud of her shrimp pilau. So how about having a Brownsville dinner tonight?

Shrimp-Vegetable Casserole Baked in Ring Mold
(Makes 6 servings)

Two pounds shrimp, fresh or frozen, ¼ cup salad oil, ½ cup chopped onion, ½ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, 2 cups day-old bread, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, ½ cup buttered bread crumbs or cracker meal.

Clean and devein shrimp. Cook it in about 2 quarts salted water. Drain. Run through medium blade of food chopper or cut in small pieces. Heat salad oil and saute onion, celery and green pepper. Best results are obtained by covering and stirring from time to time, until mixture is "transparent."

Soak bread in water and squeeze out excess. Add to vegetables. Add shrimp, raw egg, salt and pepper and mix thoroughly. Put in buttered casserole or buttered ring mold. Top with buttered crumbs and bake about 15 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Fill center of ring with frozen or canned peas.

Shrimp Pilau
(Makes 6 servings)

Two pounds shrimp, fresh or frozen, ¼ cup cooking oil, ¼ pound salt pork, cut in small pieces, ½ medium green pepper, chopped fine, 1 small onion, minced, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 4 whole cloves, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 1½ cups precooked rice.

Clean and devein shrimp, sprinkle with salt and set aside until needed. Heat oil and saute the salt pork with the green pepper and onion about 15 minutes or until pepper and onion are soft. Add tomatoes and 1 to 1½ cups cold water, add cloves and seasonings. Simmer for half an hour. To this mixture add the raw shrimp and cook 5 minutes, then add the rice. Cook 10 minutes.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Owners of Douglas DC3 airplanes can now trade in the outer wings of their craft for a pair that will hold 400 extra gallons of gasoline.

Hawaiian Volcano Subsides

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP)—More than 400 refugees from volcanic eruptions prepared to return to their homes today.

They awaited a go ahead — expected today — from Gordon A. MacDonald, director of the Hawaiian vocano observatory, and civil defense officials.

MacDonald said about 160 acres of cane field and timber were charred to a crisp by the eruption, which started with a spectacular explosion Monday.

"It looks like it is dying down now, but there's no telling what she might do" today. He said after an exhaustive survey.

MacDonald reported some steaming and subterranean rumbles.

"The lava river is still flowing but it is slowing down. Much of the activity apparently is below the surface," he said.

An earthquake described as "fairly strong" by MacDonald shook the area Tuesday afternoon but no damage was reported.

Every Friday [illegible] at 11 o'clock [illegible] featured between two of the top kegelers of the state. It's a [illegible] match but it's always a good show. This week Bunty Bomar meets George (Ace) Calder and it is well worth your time, if your're near TV. In the Public Service league Wayne Shaulis missed three alike three pins with 141, 141, 144 . . . Seven of the league bowlers collaborated on a group of bingo scores, just ten pins apart, starting with Martin Tayman who had 444, Harvey Wykoff 455, Bud Engberg 466, Leigh McGinnis 477, Harm Krull and Harold Healey each had 488 and Russ Hicks 499 . . . Don McCoy was the most consistent bowler of the night with just one pin off a trio with 164, 163, 164 . . . Last week we cited the Megawatts as not having a 500 series on the team and possibly made them a little hot under the collar, as they came back last night with only one score below the 500 mark and took high team series. Bob Whitehead had 601, Wilbur Mayes 529, Rex Rankin 476, Larry Hoyle 565 and John Hyland 570 with a 261 pin spot for 3027, and needless to say won four points, drawing a point closer to the leading Garage five . . . Gerry Emmert started with 158, 155 but dropped to 127 in his last game . . . Dale Bennett raised his games seven pins a set with 152, 159, 166. One more game at this rate and Dale would have hit his average . . . At the Lanes Russ Grobe was trying for three alike with 154, 164, 164 . . . Len Snyders spaced his games 12 pins, with 11[illegible], 1[illegible], 144 . . . Harold Woolsey was off a trio in his middle game with 177, 142, 173 . . . Bob O'Bryant and Ted Schulte were nearly bowl alikes with Bob having 134, 157, 157 and Ted 1[illegible], 1[illegible], 15[illegible] . . . VFW 2 continues to set a fast pace winning another four points Tuesday night and picked up a half a point when Gallaghers won only three to drop to third when Andrews Service won four to take second with [illegible]. Two other keglers were trying for three alike: Chuck [illegible] having 147, 127, 147 and Orville Joyce 134, 134, 92.

ACTIVITY IN ANTARCTICA—With mission accomplished, the U.S.S Atka has left the Antarctic continent and is en route home to Boston. The Navy expedition's purpose was to find and survey the most suitable base for future exploration. They found the old base, Little America (1) destroyed by ice breakup. The new base (2) was named in honor of Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, USN. A British expedition from the Falkland Islands is surveying a base site on the Palmer Peninsula (3), and under consideration is a daring plan for two English-Australian-New Zealand parties to cross the trackless wastes of the South Pole by land vehicles. The Australia-New Zealand party would strike out from a base on McMurdo Sound (4) and aim to link up with the English expedition traveling from Vahsel Bay on the Wedeel Sea (5).
